

Fire Cuts Part Of Store In King

Extensive damage was done to the store of Arthur G. Green in King City yesterday afternoon. The flames gutted the two-storey cement block section of the building in the rear of the store including a store-room and two furnished living places.

The fire was fought by King volunteer firemen under George Brown, and volunteer brigades from Aurora and Maple. Contents of the store were carried out during the fire by hard working volunteers and stored in the home of Mrs. Len Robb and in Armstrong's Garage. But store goods in storage were lost completely as were the contents of the living quarters.

The fire was discovered by Mr. Green who fought it with a fire extinguisher. He was joined by men from two near-by garages who brought extinguishers with them. The fire had too strong a hold, however. King volunteer firemen had one hose hooked up but because they had no booster, pressure wasn't strong enough. Estimates of the loss were not available at press time.

Mrs. Ross Chapman, clerk in the store, saved all the clothes which had been brought back from the cleaners as well as the store cat which she locked in Mrs. Robb's home.

King residents pointed out that this was the third serious fire in the last two weeks or so. Last year, there had been two public meetings to consider the purchase of more fire fighting equipment but nothing ever came of it.

Those with rush seats for the Newmarket Lions minstrel show, who were unable to get seats on Friday night, may get refunds on their tickets if they present them to Best's Drug Store before Tuesday morning.

District E Of Legion Has Conference Here

Mayor Joseph Vale welcomed delegates to the Canadian Legion's semi-annual District E conference in Newmarket last weekend. The mayor spoke at a noon banquet at which over 250 delegates sat down to lunch in the town hall.

One of the privileges of his office was the opportunity to extend an official welcome to the delegates, said the mayor.

DRIES WIN OUT IN UXBRIDGE VOTE

A proposal to permit the retail sale of liquor and beer in Uxbridge was voted down on Wednesday. The village will remain dry.

The 60 percent majority was lost by 83 votes on the ballot for establishment of liquor stores and by 72 votes on the ballot for brewer's retail stores.

The popular vote was as follows: For liquor stores 580; against, 525. For brewer's retail stores, 580; against, 512.

It was a heavy vote with 1,105 of 1,232 eligible voters going to the polls. Oldest voter was Mrs. Mary Thom, who will celebrate her 90th birthday in August.

SAFETY PROGRAM LAUNCHED BY CUBS

Constable William Dewar, Newmarket, of the Ontario Provincial Police, inaugurated a safety program for the 1st Newmarket Cub Pack 'A' on Tuesday night. A film pointing out the results of traffic carelessness and "showing off" was shown to the cubs and Constable Dewar spoke on safety rules for riding a bicycle on a highway. He also told of a fatal accident near Newmarket where a person's life could have been saved if caution had been used.

Books and pamphlets were issued to cubs who will use them throughout the month of May in their safety program. Leaders and cubs expressed thanks to Constable Dewar, Police Chief Burbridge and Mr. Tice for their help and interest in the program.

GUEST SPEAKER

John A. Meyer, editor of the Era and Express, was guest speaker at the meeting of the York Pioneer and Historical Society in Toronto on Tuesday night.

Members of the Newmarket fire brigade look over litter of clothing shortly after they extinguished a fire at the Master Tailors shop on Timothy St. after midnight last Thursday night. Credit has been given to the brigade for saving a block of stores. They confined the flames to the tailor shop where the entire contents including suits and coats was destroyed. When firemen arrived, flames were said to have shot ten feet into the street when they broke open the front door. Fire Chief James Coultham said the fire was started by a pressing iron which had been switched on mistakenly by the owner. Photo by Budd

Fear "Gun Happy" Hunters' Shots, Opposed To Open Deer Season

Proposals of the department of lands and forests for an open deer season in this district next fall did not receive a warm welcome from King, East Gwillimbury or Markham township councils. Whitchurch council referred the question to the Whitchurch Conservation Club but it was not anticipated that the proposal would be welcomed there either.

The major objection to the proposal for an open season is fear of the damage to life, limb and property if this area is opened to deer hunters. Hunters have not the happiest reputation in the district where reports of wild shooting, disregard of farmers' property, and instances of outright theft of poultry by so-called duck hunters are common.

East Gwillimbury voiced the farmers' fears when council said that if there was an open season, it should be after Dec. 1 when farm livestock is indoors, and only shot-guns should be permitted. More than one choice heifer has been mistaken for a deer by trigger-happy hunters.

King township was downright skeptical of the claims of the department that "deer have become numerous to the point where they cause extensive property damage..." Reeve Elton Armstrong said he had not seen a deer for two years. Other council members reported seeing one or two. "They are not doing any harm. The farmers are not complaining," said the reeve.

King's opinion was that an open season "was simply not necessary".

In Whitchurch, deer have been seen with some frequency and not long ago, there was a report of a small herd in the central part of the township.

But again, the general feeling was that the deer were not so numerous or doing enough harm to warrant the greater risk of an open season. A Ballantrae man, not long ago, reported being held at gun-point while so-called hunters took his ducks. There have been numerous other instances of trespassing and disregard of farmers' rights.

On Sunday, a house dog came home to die in a Cedar Valley home with a bullet hole in it.

Plan Tour Of Don Valley To Mt. Albert

The Don Valley Conservation Association is planning another "conservation tour" this year on Sunday, May 18, when a train with 15 coaches will leave Don Station at 1.15 p.m. to arrive in Richmond Hill about 2.30 and Mount Albert at 3 p.m.

At Richmond Hill, the pipe band will play on the platform for a few minutes in appreciation of the fine welcome the tour received at Richmond Hill last year.

At Mount Albert, there will be a parade from the train to the rear of the C.N.R. station where an official welcome will take place. Chief Big White Owl will plant a tree to open the association's "Plant a Tree Week".

The pipe band and the brass band will parade to the Mount Albert park where a concert will be given. People from the areas about Richmond Hill and Mount Albert are invited to come to the station to take part in the ceremonies.

The association recommends that those taking the trip pack a picnic basket for either on the train or a Mount Albert, and asks that the travellers wear colorful clothes.

Chief Big White Owl, who will participate in the tree-planting ceremony, is Jasper Hill, associate editor of The Native Voice, and he will be wearing full Indian regalia.

Tickets may be purchased by mail by writing Fantasy Farm, Pottery Road, Toronto 6, or telephoning Max Sutcliffe, HO 0892.

Last year's trip to Richmond Hill was highly successful and the executive of the Don Valley Conservation Authority warns those who wish to take the trip this year to be sure and get their tickets early.

New Board Stalemate Over Appointment Of Replacement Trustee

Another stalemate was reached by the Newmarket public school board last night over the appointment of a new board member to replace retiring member, Chairman Herbert Atkins, who is moving to Oshawa. Mrs. Stella Curtis was elected new chairman of the board.

With one member absent, through illness four members were left on the board at the regular meeting last night and the vote was split 2-2 for two different candidates.

E. J. Galbraith's name was proposed on a motion by Mrs. Mina Best and Mrs. Stella Curtis. Mrs. Nelson Ion's name was proposed on a motion by J. L. R. Bell and George Phimister. The supporters of the motions each voted for their motions when it came to a vote.

Mr. Galbraith's supporters said that he would be willing to act as a capable member and that he had a sound business experience which would fit him for the job.

Mr. Bell admitted that he was put in an embarrassing situation since he knew Mr. Galbraith and was sure that he would be an asset to the board.

"On the other hand, I believe Mrs. Ion should be appointed since she was a candidate in the school board elections and received over 600 votes from the people. Although I believe Mr. Galbraith would be a good member, I have to go by the principles I believe in," he said.

Mr. Bell said that in similar situations on Toronto school boards, the defeated candidate with the highest votes was always appointed to replace a re-

WORK UNDERWAY FOR NEW CHURCH

On Friday, April 25, the first sod was turned by the pastor, Rev. A. R. Yelding, for the new church to be erected on Botsford St. by the congregation of the Gospel Tabernacle. The next day the excavation was under way and now the walls are about to be erected.

The new church will accommodate about 500 persons and will also have a full size basement for Sunday School and young people's meetings. A specially outfitted room is planned for mothers and their babies or small children where, by means of loud speakers, the whole service can be heard. The front of the building will be in stone work and the sides cement block and stucco.

Four Schools To Reach Capacity In September, Need 3 Extra Teachers

Newmarket public schools will be crowded to capacity when school starts after the summer holidays next September. The average number of pupils in each class room is expected to be between 33 and 41.

H. A. Jackson, supervising principal of the public schools, told members of the school board last night that figures which have been drawn up since the new registration for the next term show that school attendance will number 863, assuming that all students are promoted from grade eight into high school. The figure is more likely to be increased by September.

Every available classroom will be used. The school attendance figures for September bear out the prediction of school boards in past years who urged the building of the new Prince Charles school. A few years ago the board asked a department of education official to make a survey of the town and he reported that there would be a particularly large increase in school population in the following three to five years.

Although there were three rooms unused since the opening of the Prince Charles school last school year, they will be filled in September, each with nearly 40 pupils.

Mr. Jackson said he worked the past three nights until 1 a.m., trying to work out a system whereby as many students as possible would be able to attend the school closest to their homes. There will be some shifts made where pupils must attend schools outside their neighborhood but Mr. Jackson has arranged that only the older grade eight pupils will be included in shifts whereby they will be made to walk farther to school.

He presented two different plans for distributing pupils to various schools. "No matter what system we use, we are going to need three more teachers on the staff next year," Mr. Jackson said. Three extra rooms must be equipped as well. Over 200 pupils will be attending each school.

ARCHERS TO MEET

The junior section of the Newmarket Archery Club is holding a meeting at the Air Force hall, Muriel Ave., on Friday night, May 9, at 8 p.m. Anyone up to and including 14 years of age, interested in archery, is urged to attend the meeting which will make plans for the archery season.

MILK PRODUCERS

The annual meeting of district milk producers will be held at the town hall in Cookstown on Friday, May 16. Senton MacIntyre, secretary-manager of the Brantford Milk Marketing agency will be the guest speaker. He is expected to present an encouraging story to district farmers about milk marketing agencies.

Bus Stolen For Night Journey To Lake Simcoe; No Cash Fares

A bus belonging to the Newmarket bus lines was stolen on Main St. and driven to Glenwood Park, between Miami Beach and Keswick, early Wednesday morning. A mystery is unsolved; no one knows who took the bus.

The bus was discovered by a resident at Glenwood Park at 8.30 Wednesday morning who phoned Newmarket police. It was parked in a laneway and a milkman had to move it to drive his milkwagon through the laneway.

A large yellow school bus, it was believed to have been stolen around 1.30 a.m. It had been parked on Main St. and Early Ruthven co-owner of the bus lines phoned his partner, Larry Needler, and asked where the bus was.

"Someone must have wanted a ride home," said Mr. Needler. He said he did not know if the driver had picked up any cash fares on the trip.

It turned out that there was little inconvenience to the bus lines over the theft except that another bus had to be used to pick up high school students Wednesday morning. A bus had to be sent to Keswick, anyway, to take a load of school children to Woodbridge at 10 a.m. Mr. Ruthven went up to Glenwood Park, started up the bus and picked up the load of students. "We weren't even out the gas it takes to drive the bus to Keswick," said Mr. Needler.

Pages from the Editor's Notebook

We were into the council chambers the other day and found that Clerk Wesley Brooks has just about completed a gallery of pictures and photographs of all of Newmarket's former mayors. Only four pictures are needed to complete the collection. Missing are pictures of Erastus Jackson, 1890-91, Brock Currey, 1927, Col. T. H. Lloyd, 1892-93, and M. J. Roadhouse, 1905-07.

Erastus Jackson was the New Era's second editor (founder G. S. Porter was the first) and we regret we do not have a suitable picture of him for the gallery. Brock Currey is a judge on Manitoulin Island and a frequent visitor in Keswick.

Quite apart from their historical value, the record they present of Newmarket's years, we wonder if the pictures serve another purpose. Council deliberations couldn't help but be improved with the constant reminder of the past peering over the councillors' shoulders.

Our farmer friend and general adviser on weather, etc., remarked as we said good night on Sunday evening that there'd likely be rain on Monday. We looked aloft. The sky was clear with a half-moon floating overhead. We doubted his forecast. No question about it, he observed. Generally get rain when the horn of the moon is pointing down.

Sure enough, on Monday the eaves were dripping and there was a rattle of hail on the window sill. Saturday we had spent transplanting pansies and a few other annuals to a new garden plot. They were beaten to the earth. We sometimes wish these forecasts weren't quite so accurate.

We enjoyed the Legion parade on Sunday and thought the Newmarket band did themselves right proud despite the competition from tight pants, spurs and shakos of the Second Division Signals Band. "How do these sigs. get spurs anyway?" asked one veteran.

However, the boys put on a good show and the best part of it was the way in which they got into their seats at the luncheon table without splitting the seams of their skin-tight pants. "They're right slimming, those pants," said Mickey Smith enviously. Mickey is doing roadwork every day in an effort to cut down his weight for the ball season.

George Haskett, our sports authority, questions the value of running a half mile every day. Have to run six miles to lose a pound, says George. Figure it out for yourself. "Have lost six pounds already," says Mickey.

They fed over 250 in the Newmarket town hall on Sunday which encourages us to draw attention again to the fact that if the hall had kitchen facilities upstairs, it would make an ideal banquet hall for the district. There is no other hall in the district which can seat so many but without kitchen facilities, it's too much a chore to feed a large gathering regularly.

The farm groups have grown so large that they frequently meet in Toronto because there is no space to accommodate them. Newmarket could make a bid for that business if there was a kitchen in the hall.

Had a report on highway conditions down Burlington way where a lake freighter took out a span of the highway bridge. A Newmarket man went down to see the blossoms on Sunday but to hear his account, he spent most of his time in a traffic jam or attempting to follow highway directions on the detour around the bridge.

On his way home, he became involved and ended up twice at Stoney Creek.

Blossoms were lovely, however, he reports.

Spotted a bird which we have been unable to identify. It was a little larger than a sparrow, solid red head, color turning pinkish as it blended with wings and back similar to sparrow. Breast was creamy pink turning to red towards head. Thought it might be one of the finch family but we were unable to place it in any of the several bird books we consulted.

Seems to have been fairly common. Several have told us they've seen the bird but were unable to identify it.

THURSDAY, THE EIGHTH DAY OF MAY, NINETEEN HUNDRED AND FIFTY-TWO

NEWMARKET GETTING ITS SHARE

When the budget was presented in Newmarket, Mayor Joseph Vale was strongly critical of the Toronto and York Roads Commission. "We should certainly start complaining about the roads in the southern municipalities which we don't use but which we have to pay for," he was reported to have said.

The same week, in an editorial, we observed that the criticism of county policy, operation and financing was growing, that there was a serious split between north and south, and suggested that to settle the argument, the wise course would be to establish a county committee to study the issue. No committee has thus far been set up, as far as we know, but we have a report from the secretary of the commission, Mr. W. W. Gardhouse, enclosing a comparative statement of funds spent on county roads north of Steeles Ave. as follows:

Year	Total Spent	Spent North of Steeles Ave.	%	Total Road Levy	Amount of levy North of Steeles	%
1949	$1,724,360	$784,200	45%	$431,096	$61,146	14.20%
1950	$1,455,332	$644,289	44%	$306,046	$41,464	13.60%
1951	$1,922,528	$860,938	45%	$396,538	$51,006	12.90%

The figures indicate that the area north of Steeles Ave. is getting back far more than it is contributing in taxes.

It should also be remembered that while the county levy on Newmarket this year is $24,000, the county is returning to Newmarket $40,000 for the rebuilding of Main St. and that next year, the county is paying $30,000, the second instalment on the same undertaking.

SPLITTING THE COUNTY

The figures cited above are worth the consideration of all those who advocate the separation of the north part of York county from the south. There is much to support the demand for a separate north York county. There is little in common between north and south. The north is essentially rural and the south essentially urban. Where they meet is more often conflict than amity.

But the fact remains that the north half of the county is heavily dependent upon the south half financially. The formation of a separate county, no matter how appealing, would require the solution of serious financial problems before it would be acceptable. For example, the bulk of the roads maintained by the county lie in the north half. It is estimated that the northern municipalities, if they undertook the maintenance of present county roads on their own, would have to increase their road expenditures by some 300 percent.

There have been other considerations. There is the county support for the hospital, for the home for the aged, for reforestation program. It all adds up to at least double present county costs to maintain a county composed of the northern municipalities.

That was one of the major objections to amalgamation of suburban municipalities as proposed by Toronto. The annexation would deprive the county of revenues which it sadly needs. This paper has always argued that if Toronto's amalgamation plans were permitted, the arrangement would also have to include a readjustment of county financing to compensate the rest of the county for the loss of tax revenues to the city.

Despite the difficulties which now then arise between rural and urban understanding, the fact remains that until there is provision for financing a north county unit, thoughts of a separate county are better shelved.

FLIES AROUND THE HONEY POT

Mr. Donald Gordon, president of the Canadian National Railways, told a parliamentary railway committee last week that the C.N.R. was embarked upon a five-year diesel program which would mean a substantial saving in operating costs in the future. One would think that the members of the committee would have applauded this effort of a government-owned operation to save money. Instead, committee members were doubtful.

Chester McLure said diesel operation in Prince Edward Island has already thrown men out of work (diesel operation on the island had meant an operational saving of $291,000, or 16 percent). Clarence Gillis feared for Nova Scotia coal sales. The C.N.R. now buys about 1,200,000 tons from Nova Scotia a year. Jean Francois Pouliot objected to the proposal to close the steam repair shops at Riviere du Loup once the diesel program gets underway.

None of these three men seemed interested in the fact that dieselization would save the C.N.R. considerable funds, and that saving meant a saving for the country. Despite the fact that Mr. Gordon assured the committee that every effort would be made to train present C.N.R. personnel in diesel operation, the committee members seemed more concerned with the preservation of special preserves than with the improvement of a government owned railway.

What is distressing about this is that the sort of situation which was reported from the railway committee room is so common. The government has become one big honey-pot and the flies are clustering about it in ever growing numbers. Instead of government funds being considered as a sacred trust, they have become fair game to all who wish to pursue it.

HAZARD STILL THERE

A by-pass of the Holland Landing Hill on Yonge St. was staked out last fall by provincial department of highways surveyors. The route angled north-west off Yonge St. at the top of the hill and rejoined the highway on the flats north of Holland Landing. This spring, there were several rumors that the land had been bought and that work would shortly start on the by-pass. We are told by the department, however, that the route was surveyed simply to see if it was practical and so far, no decision has been made about it.

We appreciate the foresight of the department in planning ahead for such improvements, but we must confess that we did not see any particular advantage to the by-pass when there were so many other improvements more pressing. The stretch between Davis Dr. and Eagle St. is far more hazardous than the hill. We enquired if any improvements were planned there. The answer was no. We asked about improvements to the intersection of Yonge St. and Davis Dr. Again the answer was "nothing planned".

It is difficult to understand why the department of highways, which expends so much time and effort in considering alternate routes such as that at the Holland Landing Hill would ignore such an obviously hazardous stretch as that between Davis Dr. and Eagle St. and the Davis Dr. intersection. Does the department not check for accidents? If it did, it would know that the rate there averaged one and a half accidents a week during the heavy traffic months.

Is the department going to ignore the situation another year?

GETTING ALL THEY CAN

Unemployment insurance seemed like a thoroughly practical undertaking when it was first introduced. The wage earner was assured some income between jobs or during a slack season. It was, in effect, the application of the moral of the ant and the grass-hopper. The only objection was that it was compulsory but that was a somewhat academic argument at the time.

But perhaps because it was compulsory there is so much real objection to it now. Unemployment insurance, like all such social legislation, presupposes the incorruptibility of the character of the recipient. It was intended as an emergency measure. It has become for a good many a way of life.

An instance is the effort of a district farmer to hire six men for a few days at 75 cents an hour. The men were contacted by the unemployment officer. They were without work, drawing unemployment insurance. They agreed to do the job but at the appointed time, none of them turned up. There are jobs a-begging because those drawing unemployment insurance would rather get along on a minimum of what they used to make with no effort than to increase their earnings with what they could make if they took the jobs offered them.

This would be no concern of ours were it not that the unemployment insurance fund is made up of one third employee's contribution, one third employer's, and one third government's. At income tax time, the thought of paying that final third so that a man can loaf is a little gripping. But as we say above, he is loafing because, having been forced to pay into the fund, he is determined to get out of it all that he can, plus the other two thirds his own contribution has earned.

When it comes down to the fine point, we know of no other way in which a man can increase his investment three-fold so conveniently.

Office Cat Reports Catnips By Ginger

For the summer season at least, Slim Bliggins has forsaken the arts "to become an entrepreneur" as he says.

Lip reading from a text book on economics in my office recently, Slim explained just what an entrepreneur really was, in case I didn't know.

"An entrepreneur," said Slim, "is a laker in between, so to speak in a loose translation of the French. He's a middle man which by his own enterprises makes a fast buck from the masses. In other words, I am in business with myself."

"You mean you are going to give up painting to make a fast buck?" I said. "That's a pretty disgusting thought, especially you being a respected member of the art circle here."

"I am merely going to supply a demand; I'll be a perfectly justified function in our capitalist economy and society. When there is a big demand by the masses and a chance to make a fast buck for myself, I say to myself, art must go."

"What, pray, is this new vast financial venture you are about to embark upon?" I asked of the noted local capitalist.

Slim lit up a long El Pando cigar, leaned far back in his chair and announced, "I am going into business with my own portable potato-chips factory. Bein' mobile, I will be able to supply the whole rich resort area of Lake Simcoe east shore, a lush district for a fast buck. Like the Arabs, I will fold up my mobile potato-chips factory each night and move on to some virgin territory."

And so it came to pass that we drove up to the beaches last weekend in Slim's 1929 Alfa-Phalta straight eight with the portable potato-chips factory in the rumble seat. The "factory" was about four feet long and two feet wide and somewhat resembled a baby's bathinette. It had a tin tub for frying the chips in, a hand strainer and was powered by a small gasoline camp stove.

"Overhead's pretty low in my factory," Slim said. "I bought my taters off'n a feller up in the Marsh for half price so costs will be negligible. It's easy money, see? So we move in on the scenic wonderlands of these here swank resort areas and clean up."

The first scenic wonderland we moved in upon was at the bridge which crosses the Bowine River near Binkersworth's beach. The river looked like the Ganges. It's banks were seething with weekend pilgrims from the city. People were fishing in all directions. Some hung from trees by their ankles, others crowded on boat house rooftops, trying to find enough space to throw in a line.

The bridge was jammed with humanity and happy children romped gaily between their parents and the nearest hot-dog stand screaming for more ice cream and pop.

It was a happy holiday scene and in the centre of it all Slim beamed with enterprising satisfaction as he set up his potato-chips factory, put on a chef's hat and prepared to start up the power unit.

Children clustered around the factory and began asking questions as Slim pumped up the air tank in the camp stove. "What is that man doing?" asked one little one of his mother.

"Mummie, is that a man?" asked another. "What is he doing? Is that man Santa Claus?"

"Oh look, there's a Purch and Judy show startin' up," cried another. As Slim pumped, the crowd pressed in. Someone dropped a can of worms into the fryer and caused a scene. But Slim was patient. He got the stove going and prepared his first batch of potatoes. With cigar jammed into a corner of his mouth, Slim told the crowds to "get 'em while they're hot; get 'em while they're crispy. It's Bliggins' own tasty chips made with lovin' hands."

In two hours, Slim ran out of potatoes and someone had knocked over the factory. Undaunted, Slim walked down the road and bought a sack of potatoes from a gardener and was back in business in a short time.

As evening shadows crept, Bliggins counted his take and decided he would buy a cash register next.

by "Dairy Farmer" The Top Six Inches

With the seeding in full swing and the weather still warm and clear, we are having a good start this year. We are amazed how scarce seed grain is in this district. We can only think of two explanations, with seeding early and labor short, people tend to buy more seed. Then too, most seed mills today will sell seed treated and ready to sow. The second reason is that there isn't enough grain left in the country, having been fed last winter. This would indicate that there was a lot of stock carried and the price of hogs certainly indicates that there was more than the average number of hogs finished off.

There are lots of other happenings these days to make us sit back and think. The continued outbreaks of foot and mouth disease is one. We are afraid our early optimism is vanishing in the face of these new outbreaks. It is still just in the West and it seems to be moving south rather than west or east, but it is still there and what appeared at first as a disruption of limited duration now is developing into a long-term struggle.

We aren't particularly interested or impressed with the hearings held in Ottawa. One of the easiest jobs in the world is to "fry" a man on the witness stand. It would be easy to prove carelessness, lack of foresight, lack of drive and lack of everything. But any man on that committee, no matter how right he is, should beware of making political propaganda of it. It is bound to backfire sooner or later.

Let us just remember that those veterinarians out west were up against more than just an invisible virus. They were and are up against human nature, a factor much more stubborn and intractable, much more unreasonable and wicked than a plain virus.

We don't want to preach to those unfortunate ones out west who are bearing the burden of this outbreak, but are we as a whole agricultural community willing to give up all that we must to make the fight a success? What about the travelling that should be restricted? What about the reporting of the disease in time? What about the continuous hankering for short-cuts? And the daily, burdensome task of disinfecting and cleaning up that will have to be done before we are rid of this disease?

Well, we don't know. We should be very careful before we issue a blanket condemnation of all people responsible.

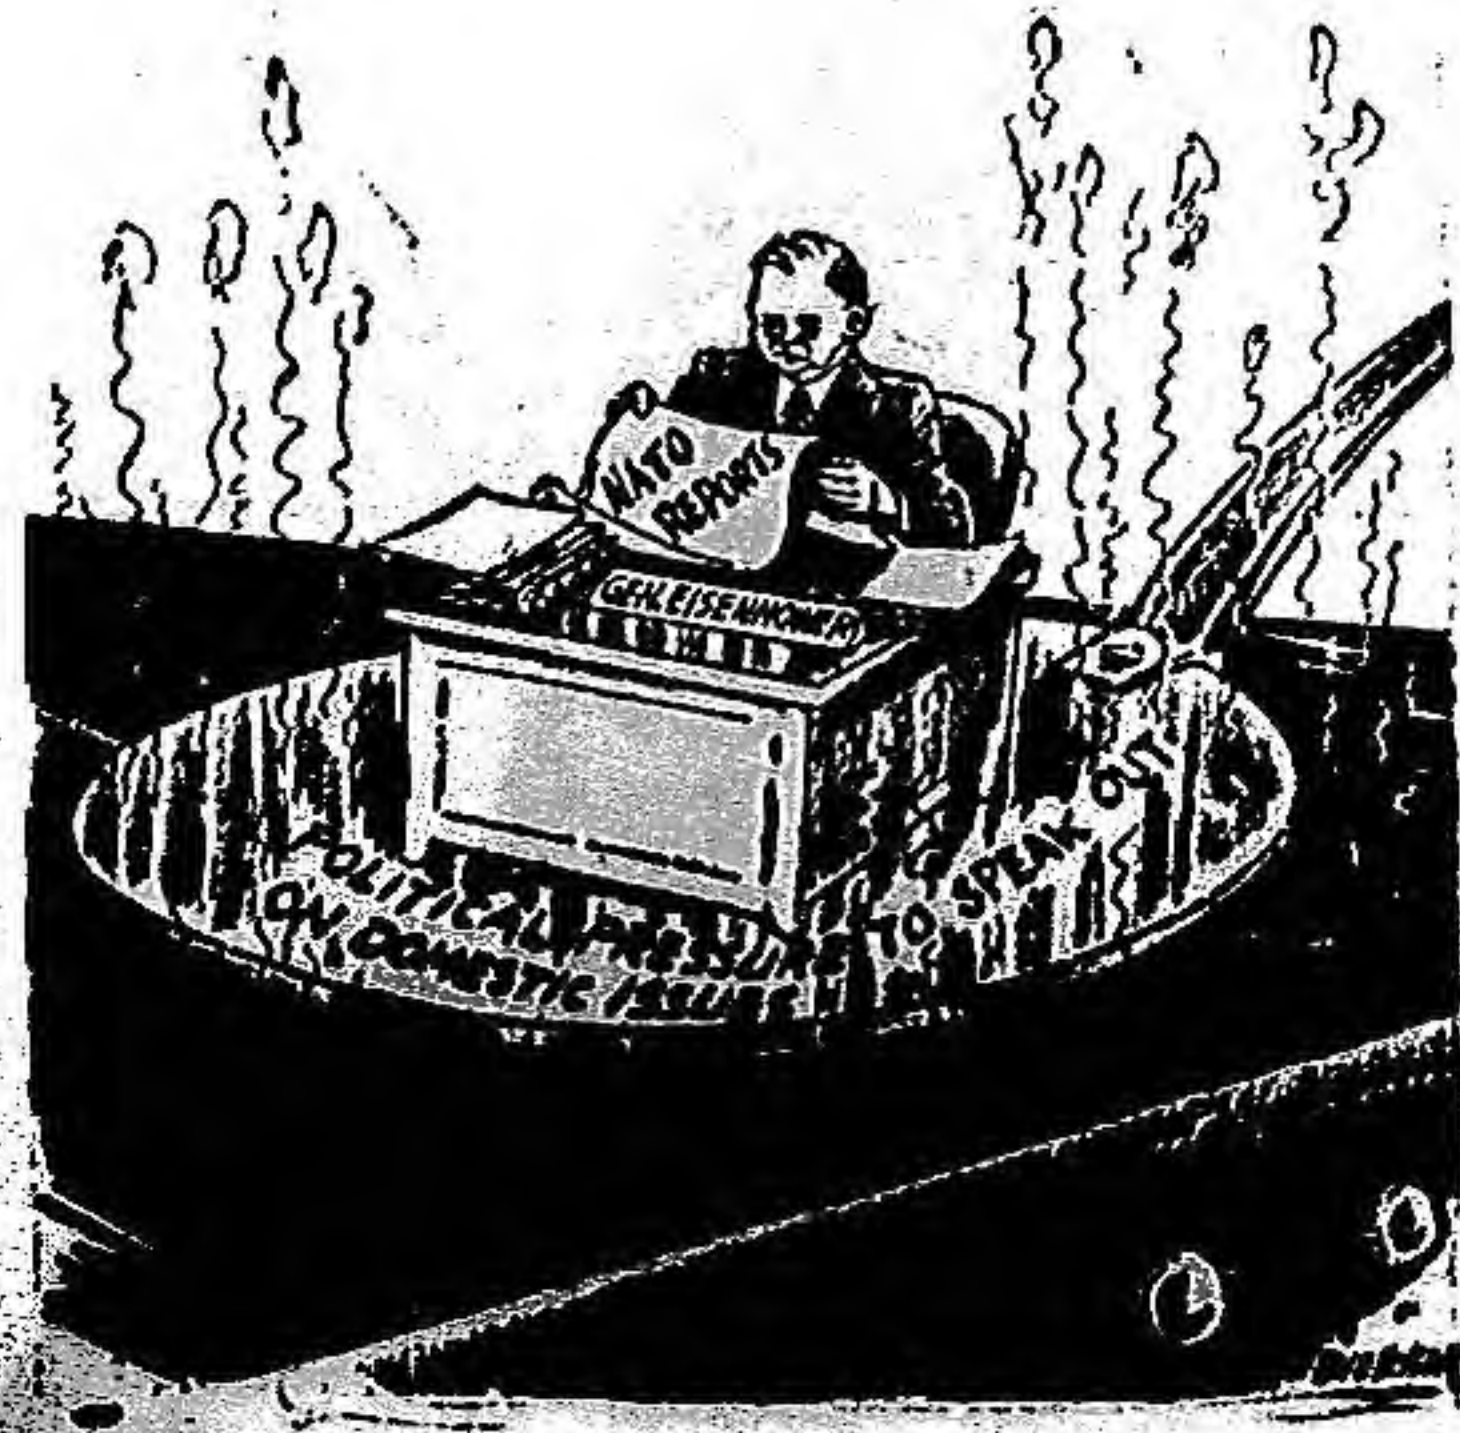

We had an eye-opener into the workings of human nature the other day. And any of you who care to see it for yourself. This country, right in our own neighborhood, is full of garbage. People drive along the road and drop out a box of garbage. They will find what they would call a secluded spot and there goes the litter.

There was a fire on the edge of the Marsh the other day and when the smoke was cleared after a stiff, short fight and the fire department went in to check it, it was found that what still held the fire were the old chairs and rubber boots and general rubbish that was strewn along the shrubs and in the grass. The amount of this is amazing since it covers a lot of ground and it must have been going on for a long time.

York County Hospital

Women's Aid

November, 1923 - September, 1940

On Saturday, May 31, the York County Hospital Women's Auxiliary will stage a tag day on Main St., Newmarket. This will be preceded by a house to house canvass to be accomplished "blitz" fashion by adult solicitors on Thursday, May 29. In preparation for these two events there will appear in the next four editions of this paper, articles based on the minutes of the original Hospital Aid (1923-1940) and those of the present association which was re-organized in March, 1950.

These articles will supplement Mr. Walter Eves' recent contribution on "The Origin and Growth of York County Hospital". There is no better way to emphasize the great need of auxiliary help and the value of such an organization to a community than by presenting an account of what a small group of determined, public-minded women accomplished in a few short years. This is the history of the original Aid as compiled from the minutes of their meetings:

On November 20, 1923, "the ladies of the town held a meeting at the York County Hospital (at this time situated in Dr. Lowell Dales' home) for the purpose of organizing an Auxiliary to co-operate with the hospital management in providing supplies, equipment, etc. The following ladies were present: Mrs. R. Manning, Mrs. W. H. Eves, Mrs. C. E. Lewis, Mrs. R. F. Smith, Mrs. Brinson, Mrs. Ed. Young, Mrs. S. Cody, Mrs. H. Cane, Mrs. C. E. Cane, Mrs. W. Bosworth, Miss Dolan, Miss O. Niles and the following officers were elected: pres., Mrs. W. H. Eves; vice-pres., Mrs. C. E. Lewis; sec.-treas., Mrs. J. F. Harvey.

"A canvass of the town was arranged for but was cancelled that same evening owing to a meeting of the directors and a possible change in hospital management."

Help for Nurses
This Aid met again the following week when "Miss Warren, superintendent of the hospital, gave an inventory of present equipment and furnishings, emphasizing the need of bedding and linen for the use of the nurses in training. Miss Warren made a very favorable impression by her sympathetic appeal on behalf of the nurses' needs and was met by a ready response."

This ready response was incorporated in a motion "that we proceed to give what assistance we can in a private capacity, making no public appeal until the status of the hospital is decided" but they immediately took up a collection among themselves for "Christmas cheer for the hospital patients and staff" which amounted to 6.55 and a "committee consisting of Mrs. E. Richardson, Mrs. Harvey, Mrs. Young and Mrs. Cody was appointed to make suitable purchases with the money collected."

In view of the present financial difficulties which our hospital is encountering and the ensuing publicity in this respect, it is interesting to note that at an Aid meeting on December 11, 1923, "Mrs. Dales read a letter in reference to a mortgage on the hospital, contradicting the false rumors that are being circulated". At this same meeting "a vote was taken and every lady present signified her willingness to help in raising funds to carry on the work of this Auxiliary". However, the need for supplies was most pressing and at the next meeting we find that the ladies had not waited to "raise funds" but had collected from their members and sympathetic friends a good supply of linens of all sorts which they immediately presented to the hospital.

In January, 1924, "Dr. Dales, through Miss Warren, having asked the Auxiliary to take charge of preparations for the graduation exercises, the secretary was instructed to write Sir William Mulock, asking if he would be present to present the diplomas". Until the discontinuation of the training school it became the duty of the Aid to arrange for the graduation exercises. As the school grew, these exercises were held either in the town hall or local theatre, with the town band in attendance, and flowers and a copy of "The Reference Book for Nurses" for each graduating nurse.

It was about this time that a first appeal was made to local Women's Institutes, and then, as now, the minutes contain many votes of thanks for their donations.

East Gwill. Council

The regular monthly meeting of the East Gwillimbury council was held Saturday, May 3.

Mr. Ed. Williamson of Newmarket presented plans for a large subdivision in lot 2, concession 2, just north of Lumby Ave. and Bolton Ave.

The council reserved their decision until the council of Newmarket have been consulted in regard to supply of water. If no water is available the minimum requirement for each lot is 15,000 square feet but if piped water is available the minimum size of the lot is 7,500 sq. ft.

Mr. Meadows of C. A. Meadows & Associates Ltd., consulting engineers, presented plans for the subdivision of the Daly Farm, south of Holland Landing. Mr. Meadows has his plan zoned into four classes, large lots of two acres each for the more expensive homes, 1,500 sq. ft. for the lower priced homes, large park space, and an industrial area along the railroad.

Reeve John Rye and the council commented on the fact that there had been seven applications for subdivisions since the first of January, and there are rumors that others are contemplating making application for approval of subdivision plans, and that this township was fast developing into an urban area. The past experience of other municipalities that have developed from rural to urban is that the cess, their overall program soon became unbelievably ambitious. In this same season (1925) the Violet Tag Day was extended to include Aurora and Queensville. The minutes note that tags were also sold on the "cars" plying between Newmarket and Aurora.

Since at least four violators were used to make a tag, we can readily understand that there were "many special meetings when the ladies met to make violators for tag day."

The Aid was meeting only once a month now—"every second Tuesday of the month"—and it was found necessary to "give sewing to the members to do in their homes" in order to keep abreast of the demand. This year also "many were given jars to fill with fruit and vegetables". This project was so successful that a permanent committee under the convenship of the late Mrs. W. H. Eves was set up to distribute and collect some five hundred jars, a task she undertook for many years. (To be continued next week) rural part suffered through increased taxation. It was pointed out that the extra services required, such as schools, hospitalization, relief, and other social services all cost the rural part more than their share.

Mr. Meadows claims that the Daly farm is very suitable for subdivision purposes due to the fact that it is well supplied with artesian wells and is adjacent to the provincial highway on one side and the railway on the other.

The Queensville and Mount Albert libraries were given a grant of $25 each.

The department of lands and forest contemplate putting on a deer shoot in East Gwillimbury this coming fall. The council objected unless the open season is held after December 1 when the livestock is inside, and that only shotguns shall be allowed.

The time limit expired April 1 for grants to be made from the Briggs' Memorial Fund to community centres, and the balance, $3,455.02, has been transferred to the township general account.

Mr. Theodore Bingham, better known as Ted Bingham, has been appointed assistant police constable for the township of East Gwillimbury.

The Newmarket town council has been notified that the police force has been increased and that the township police will take over the policing of that part of Davis Drive within the township of East Gwillimbury.

The treasurer has been instructed to pay East Gwillimbury's share of expenses of the Holland River conservation scheme.

The council has declared Mill Street in the village of Sharon a 30 mile per hour speed limit zone and have ordered signs erected. The request was made from the village trustees.

The auditor's report was accepted by the council, which shows a surplus of assets of over $15,000.

Due to so many delegations, and the meeting of the board of health, the council did not complete the discussion on a grant to the York County Hospital to cover East Gwillimbury's share of the 1951 deficit. The decision will be made at the next meeting of council.

The June regular council meeting will be held on Monday, June 2, instead of the first Saturday as Mount Albert Field Day will be held on June 7.

Production of FORD TRACTOR to Continue without Interruption

We are happy to be able to tell you that the lawsuit brought more than four years ago against Ford Motor Company, Detroit, Mich., and Dearborn Motors Corporation, Birmingham, Mich., by Harry Ferguson and Harry Ferguson, Inc. has been settled by agreement of the parties.

There are three points connected with this settlement which, as a present or possible future owner of a Ford Tractor, we want to make clear to you. Regardless of what you may hear to the contrary, these are the FACTS.

3 POINTS OF INTEREST
To Our Present and Future Customers

1 Ford Motor Company will continue production of the present Ford Tractor without interruption, and Dearborn Motors Corporation will continue to market them nationally as in the past. (In Canada, Ford Tractors and Dearborn Farm Equipment are marketed by Ford Motor Company of Canada, Limited, through its 750 Ford-Monarch Dealers.) By the end of 1952, Ford Motor Company has agreed to make two simple changes, and only two changes, in the means of operation and control of a pump used in the hydraulic system in the Ford Tractor. After these simple changes have been made, there is nothing in the settlement of the suit to prevent Ford Motor Company from continuing the manufacture of the present Ford Tractor for as long as it may choose.

2 Ford Motor Company will continue to produce and Dearborn Motors Corporation will continue to supply, through its distributors and dealers, all repair parts for all past, present and future Ford Tractors.

3 Ford Tractors will continue to offer all the advantages of the present system of hydraulic control, the present method of attaching and operating implements, and all other features responsible for their wide popularity. Dearborn Motors will continue to offer its same complete line of implements.

A STATEMENT

By Mr. Henry Ford II

"In normal times Ford Motor Company would carry such a suit to a final conclusion in the courts. These are not normal times. Under the circumstances we were glad to get rid of the litigation to avoid the expense, harassment, and further interference with our tractor business involved in additional years in the courts.

"The settlement in no way interferes with Ford Motor Company's continuing to offer to the farmer the lowest priced tractor with hydraulic control and the present method of attaching and operating implements."

"I put away my hard-earned money"

This young bank depositor recently wrote to his bank manager:

"I made a goal of $1,000 for this year. It is two years since I opened the account with two dollars. I owe thanks to you that I put away my hard-earned money where it will benefit me... I do not wish to touch it for the time being."

Building up a bank account means work and sacrifice. But Canadians know the value of having savings handy in time of opportunity or need: they maintain 7½ million savings accounts in the chartered banks—almost twice as many as ten years ago. At the same time bank staffs have almost doubled. That, and higher wages, have increased bank payrolls almost three times.

More people use the banks, more people work for the banks than ever before.

During the afternoon Miss Lewis will conduct a question and discussion period on this subject. She will also report results of the quilt competition after judging the entries.

It is the district annual that produces the overall picture of branch progress and is brought larger executive bodies. Rev. closer to the workings of the M. R. Jenkinson, minister of the United church, will give the welcoming address, replied by Mrs. George Shoultz, Schomberg.

The secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Fred Hare of Temperanceville, reports the 1951 district meeting and will summarize the amounts that have been raised by branches for district and larger projects. She will report the membership and financial standing of the district.

Mrs. Ivan Specht, King township representative of York County Hospital Auxiliary, will present her findings. Institutes play an important role in the work of this organization.

The report of the nominating committee will be given by Mrs. C. Marchant of Schomberg. After the president, Mrs. R. C. Baycroft, delivers her address after lunch, reports of the Guelph conference will be presented by Mrs. Baycroft and Mrs. Ed. Reddick, first vice-president.

The first annual conference was held at King City when Centre York was set up in 1950 with the division of North York into two separate districts.

The home was made of earth taken from the side of a hill nearby and mixed with the water of the clear running stream. Its walls are easily two feet thick, and partitions are polished old hardwood. There is a beautiful stone fireplace and flagstone floors under which is radiant heating.

While the one storey house has been up a number of years, Miss Burrows had added other rooms. She was approached by Mrs. Aubrey Campbell, convener of agriculture and Canadian industries, for the past year, who is arranging a program at her home, 5th line, for Tuesday night, May 13. SECRET AMAZES FRIENDS!

"Out of the blue..."

"I certainly stole the show the other day when I told my friends the secret of my washing—the whitest in the neighbourhood. 'Just wash Reckitt's Blue through the rinse,' I said, 'and out of the blue comes the whitest wash.' Reckitt's Blue costs so little and makes such a big difference."

Picture News from C-I-L

"PAPER PUNCHING" is target shooters' name for their sport, now attracting more and more fans every year. This young marksman, who may someday compete in the National Shooting Matches at Ottawa gets a few tips from an old hand. Shooting enthusiasts say, "Get 'em young"... believe that boys should be carefully trained in the correct handling of firearms.

QUIZ PICTURE of the week is this strange object. Insect? Driftwood? No, but if you're a farmer, you should recognize it! It's a wheat seedling with a destructive fungus growth. Farmers now apply modern disinfectants like "Ceresan M" to protect grains against many seed and soil-borne diseases.

CONGRATULATIONS, Miss Marguerite Gignac. The happy young singer is this year's winning contestant on "C-I-L Singing Stars of Tomorrow". This popular radio program gives young Canadian singers the chance to be heard by an audience of hundreds of thousands, and to compete for C-I-L musical awards worth over $5,000.

Did you know?

Over 8,000 men and women from all walks of life and every province make up the C-I-L organization. Their skills and talents are used in more than 200 job classifications ranging from stenographer to research chemist, truck driver to plant manager.

OBITUARY John William Pollock

Funeral services were held at the Presbyterian church, Engle-hart, on Tuesday afternoon for John William Pollock, who died at his home here on Sunday, Apr. 27. Mr. Pollock, who was in his 79th year, was born in North Gwillimbury on June 30, 1873.

A lumberman all his life, Mr.
Pollock, a son of William Pollock
near Newmarket. For a time he carried on business in Engle-hart and along with his father, the late William Pollock, the firm of William Pollock and Son was founded. Since that time he has operated continuously at Englehart and in the surrounding area. At the present time the firm has their saw mills at Gowanda, Ont.

While in Michigan, Mr. Pollock married the former Miss Grace Pite of Mentor on September 27, 1905, who survives, along with three sons, Clayton,
Ralph and Bruce, of Englehart, and three daughters, Evelyn, of New Liskeard, Euloh, at home, and Aura (Mrs. Murray Woodside) of Ottawa. A sister, Florence, (Mrs. Walter Errett) of Vancouver, also survives.

The death of John Pollock removes from the north one of its keenest curlers. During recent years he was not able to take as active a part in the ancient game, but when his health permitted it he was usually found at the curling rink, either participating in the game or following its progress behind the glass. His presence and chuck-ling laugh will be missed in the years to come when curlers gather. His business during much of the year kept him away from his home town and he never had club was formed at Englehart, he was one of its charter members and he took a keen inter-organization.

The funeral services at the Presbyterian church were conducted by the Rev. Gillies, pastor, assisted by Rev. Darlington, of the Anglican church, and Rev.
Geo. Crews, of the United church. Pallbearers were Frank Thib, Albert Woolfings, John Litster, Don Paterson, Doug.
Pillsworth and Roy Bond. Interment was in Englehart cemetery.

THE Calvert SPORTS COLUMN

by Elmer Ferguson

Another Kentucky Derby passes into history to be recorded into the colorless exactitude of mathematical equine annals, another winner is being glamorized as the most remarkable animal of the era, which the custom and the routine procedure.

But how long will the glamor last? How soon will it be rubbed off? When, if ever, will the practical—and none in sport more so—horse folk remark scornfully: "How did THAT thing ever come to win the Derby?" Never, perhaps. This winner may move on to equal the greatness of some others who triumphed in the Run for the Roses.

But we recall a Derby winner who never had greatness before, and never afterward. His brief moment of glory came that May afternoon of 1933, when in the final 100 yards of the Churchill Downs stretch, two horses thundered towards the wire urged by their two frantic jockeys. One—and his glory too later faded off into sheer disgrace—was Donald Meade, riding Broker's Tip, next to the rail, executing one of the tricks that led to his disbarment. He had a grip on the saddle cloth of the other horse, Head Play, ridden by Herbie Fisher.

As the horses neared the finish, spectators saw Fisher strike Meade with his bat as he sought to shake Meade loose from the clinging grip on his saddle-cloth. They were still almost inseparable as they tore past the post. The judges saw Broker's Tip's nose in front. There was a tremendous roar from the 35,000 Kentuckians present, for a Bradley horse had won the fourth Derby for his owner, and the winner's share of $48,925.

It was one of the most thrilling finishes in Derby history and one of the most talked about. The winner was a great horse that days as thousands sang his praises, and columns of print glorified his quality. But the sudden glory faded fast. When Broker's Tip won that Derby, he was a "maiden". He had never won a race. He was the second maiden in history to have won the classic, the Canadian-owned Sir Barton having preceded him.

Sir Barton, racing for the late Commander J. K. L. Ross, went on to become a famous racer; but Broker's Tip went on to become a flop. One week after the Derby he raced Head Play and others in the Preakness, another $50,000 stake.
Head Play won; but Broker's Tip, the great horse of the week before, ran absolutely last.

In fact, he never won a race again. When retired to the breeding farm, he apparently was a failure there. And a few years later, the horse that won $48,000 that May afternoon, was sold for a mere $1,400, and completely disappeared from view.

Sic transit gloria.
Perhaps we're laying too much stress on the glories of a Derby which really isn't a Derby at all, in the truest sense of the word. It's a weak imitation of the daddy of all derbies, the English race, which is at a mile and a half, a quarter-mile longer than the American race. The Belmont Stakes is the nearest replica on this side of the Atlantic to the Epsom Downs race, being also at a mile and a half, for three year olds.

Public Schools Stage Whirlwind Ball Tourney

Newmarket public schools sent eight teams into action in a whirlwind softball tournament Thursday to declare school league squirt and pee-wee champions.

The busy-brisk softball afternoon ended with Rockets squirt, and Bears pee-wee champions.

In the squirt semi-final action, Rockets harpooned Biltmores 9-5. Marlbors sprayed base hits to all corners of the diamond to humble Flyers 14-4. In the finals, seven second inning runs coupled with steady pitching by Reggie Peterson enabled Rockets to tumble Marlbors 9-4, to gain the title.

In annexing the pee-wee championship, Bears tamed Barons 4-0 behind three-hit pitching from Ralph Bray. Bisons speared a 9-3 win over Hornets. Bears connected for four first and three second inning runs to spill Bisons 9-4 for pee-wee laurels.

Umpiring, coaching and score-keeping assignments were handled efficiently by teachers Miss F. Bulmer, Miss M. Barry, Mrs. L. Styke, Miss M. King, Miss H. Sprague, H. A. Jackson, F. Hollingsworth, N. Lothian, S. Jefferson, W. Blackshaw.

Lunch was served for all the players by the teaching staff in Stuart Scott School at the conclusion of the eventful afternoon. The event also marked the official close of the public schools hockey league season. All players on the winning and runner-up teams in both the pee-wee and squirt division were presented with crests.

Crests were donated by St. John's Holy Name Society out of proceeds from their weekly bingos. Crest presentations were made by Peter Gorman and Earl Griffin.

Only Seven More Needed

Wanted immediately: seven good kickers for soccer (football).

Plans to get soccer moving in Newmarket are getting along famously. Our soccer fiberts, Jan Husak, Lorne Wass and Bob Middleton, report 14 players have turned in their names as available for soccer duty. List to date is made up of Jack Proctor, Robert Dick, Don Budd, Lorne Wass, Richard Preston, Bob Middleton, Joe Calvert, Alvie McKnight, Eric West, John Gabel, Harry Lavender, Jan Husak and Bill Saunders.

Seven more players are needed to complete the two teams and as soon as the roster is complete, plans for an East Side vs West Side try-out game can be finalized.

Don't be bashful boys. Step up and let Jan Husak, Lorne Wass, Bob Middleton or Geo. Haskett know you're ready to take the field.

HASHMAN AWARD

A Bow To Chapman

Good! Good! Good! Hockey's finished. Now your Hashman can take a look at the diamond artists. Recently the Lake Simcoe Softball League got down to the important business of naming an executive for the coming campaign. And what's this? Ross Chapman, the Turnip King of East Gwillimbury, has retired. Yes sir, it's a fact. After a five year reign as king of the Simcoe mushball circuit, Ross Chapman carried out his previous intention to "step-out and let somebody else guide the league."

Ross stepped down with the plaudits of all the delegates ringing in his ears. In one voice they all remarked, "we're sorry to see you go."

During Chappie's chairmanship, league prospered and hit a new high in popularity and fan interest. His guidance and steady hand at the throttle will be missed.

Taking our cue from the delegates' remarks, we're naming Ross Chapman as our first Hashman and Roxy Theatre pass winner of the 1952 softball season.

Minor Baseball League Organized For North York

If further evidence was needed to substantiate the claim that baseball was on the come-back trail in North York, it was amply demonstrated Monday as delegates from Richmond Hill, Newmarket, Aurora, Mount Albert and Lake Wilcox met in Aurora to organize a North York Minor Baseball Association.

A six-team bantam league was set up of teams from Richmond Hill, Sutton, Aurora, Newmarket, Mount Albert and Lake Wilcox.

In the case of Mount Albert and Lake Wilcox, it was their first attempt at the big diamond sport. Mount Albert Legion will sponsor their young hopefuls while Oak Ridges Lions will sponsor the Lake Wilcox entry.

Three teams, Richmond Hill, Aurora and Lake Wilcox, filed entries in the league's midget series. Newmarket and Aurora came in with pee-wee teams. Stouffville is likely to produce a juvenile entrant. Aurora, Richmond Hill and Bradford are working on junior teams.

If entries come through as expected, Stouffville is likely to be grouped with the three junior clubs.

Both bantam and midget league schedules will open on May 19. Complete schedule of early games appears below. Five innings will constitute a game but the teams must play seven if possible, according to the rules laid down at last Monday's meeting. It was also agreed that any team in the league could enter the O.B.A. playdowns if they so desired.

Delegates present were Grant Nightstand, Dave Hart, Richmond Hill; Bill Mundell, Aurora; Gregg Scott, Morley Case, Mount Albert; Bob Russell, Wilcox Lake; Don Warner, Geo. Haskett, Newmarket.

AURORA LADIES PRACTICE

Plans for an Aurora Junior Ladies' Softball team appear bright, reports Harold Stephenson and Tracy Barranger, spearheading the drive to get the team operating. All ladies under 20 interested in playing softball this season are asked to be at the park on Tyler St. on Monday, May 12, and Wednesday, May 14, for practice. Practices are called for 7 p.m. If enough players are available an entry into the Lake Simcoe Junior Ladies' League will be considered.

Peel-York Softball

Eight teams, an increase of three over last year, have entered the Peel-York Softball League. The organization meeting of the league was held Tuesday. Schomberg, King City, Kettleby, Portageville and Woodbridge re-entered. Bolton, Nobleton and Humber Summit were accepted for membership in the circuit.

Last year's officials, Bob Moody, Schomberg, president; Ted Fawbert, Woodbridge, vice-president; Bruce Hall, King City, secretary-treasurer, were re-elected. The league plans a single home and home schedule. Top six teams will be eligible for the play-offs.

All eight teams will spring into action May 15. Schomberg will entertain Nobleton in their home opener under the lights May 15.

Sr. Girls In Stride

Newmarket senior ladies' softball team is getting down to business in earnest for the coming softball season. They'll be back in the Barrie and District Softball League and have again entered the P.W.S.U. intermediate playdowns.

Tuesday, the second practice was held at the Stuart Scott diamond. Last year's regulars reporting to coach Charlie VanZant were Mona Dean, Phil McInnis, Terry Reid, Mary Osborne, Lois Darrach and Edna McGrath. Jeanne MacDonald, Barbara Watt, Glenna Woodhouse and Carol Burton, members of last year's junior team, are trying to step up to the senior team.

New recruits reporting were Arva Thoms, Leola Huntley, Marguerite Green and Marie Harrison. The latter duo performed with Mount Albert's championship winning junior team. Coach VanZant has called further practices for tonight (Thursday) and on Tuesday of next week. Both will be held at the S. S. diamond at 7 p.m.

Number of teams in the Barrie and District League will be known after the league organization meeting this week.

Hoffman, Specialty Win Town Softball Openers

Hits, runs, errors, wild pitches, and wild throws were going at wholesale bargain basement prices as the town league kicked open the door on its season Wednesday.

Behind two-hit pitching by Bill VanZant and a harvest of 13 runs over the first three innings, Hoffman put the boots to Ray Smith's Sports-Cycle band 18-4 in the twilight contest.

In the under the lights set-to, Office Specialty hit like thunder for eight first inning runs but had to hold on for dear life for an 11-10 win as the Thompson-Bell came back in the dying innings to make it interesting.

In the early game it was Bruce Townsley's big bat with three hits, including a two-on homer in the first innings that sparked Hoffmans. Bill VanZant made his pitching load easier with a grand slam homer in the second. Laurie Thoms and Ross Eves kicked in two hits each to add zest to the Bob Murray-Hank VanZant Hoffman tribe attack.

Art Dobbie who started on the mound—he was relieved in the second by Pine Orchard flash Ted Tidman—collected both Sports-Cycle hits. His third inning's bingle was wasted—but a walk to Harv. Gibeon, Hoffman errors on Jack Baidson's and Roy Eves' infield sizzlers, plus Dobbie's hit in the seventh gave Sports-Cycle three runs.

Harvey Gibeon counted Cyclamen's first run in the fourth—it was a gift—as Gibeon rounded the sacks on errors. Sports-Cycle will improve, that's definite, and are going to make it interesting for all comers in double-quick time. Thompson-Bell couldn't get the Specialty out in the first innings. That was their downfall as Specialty pushed home eight runs, on five errors, four wild pitches, two walks and four hits with third sacker Wilf. Elsby's double the big blow.

Victim of the attack was Alf. Peel's new chucker, Harv. Murray. Bun Cook hit for a homer in the third with Don. Glover and Ted Mosier aboard for the Specialty final three runs. Thompson-Bell picked up two runs in the first on Don. Smith's walk and Herb May's solid single. Thompson-Bell added three more in the third on Don. Smith's second walk, Mickey Smith's single and an error. They added singles in the fourth, fifth and sixth against the fireball chucking of John Sheddwick who came on to relieve Lefty Don. Glover, Specialty starter in the fourth innings.

Bell men trailed 11-2 going into the seventh. Dick Hancock started that frame off with a single and Johnny McTavish powdered a Sheddwick Sunday pitch out of the park for a homer. That brought the Bell to within one run of a tie; it was 11-10 but John Sheddwick bore down to get Morley Cook on strikes, Bill Johnston second to first and Don. Smith grounded out to first to close the threat.

Harv. Murray started on the mound for the Thompson-Bell, Morley Cook coming on the scene in the fourth to stop the Specialty hitters cold.

It was a good start—teams go again Monday. Alderman Chas. VanZant, Lorne Paynter and Frank Courtney did the league opening ceremonies in ace fashion.

Wrestlers Return May 24

Good news for the wrestling devotees. The grunt and groan musclemen will move back into the Memorial Arena for the season on May 24. Ten nights of wrestling are carded through the summer and fall months.

Bookings are for May 24, opening night, June 7, June 14, July 12, July 26, Aug. 9, Aug. 23, Sept. 6, Sept. 20 and Oct. 4. Last season, Thursday was wrestling night locally. This year it has had to be switched to Saturday night owing to heavy demand for the grapplers across the province.

Top-notch wrestlers and cards will feature each show and all shows will start at 9 p.m.

JUNIOR LADIES PRACTICE

Geo. Watt, manager of the Newmarket Junior Ladies Softball team, requests all players interested in trying out with the team to report to the Stuart Scott diamond at 7 p.m. Friday, May 9. The team will return to the Lake Simcoe Junior Ladies Softball League again this season.

Cycling Club Reorganizes

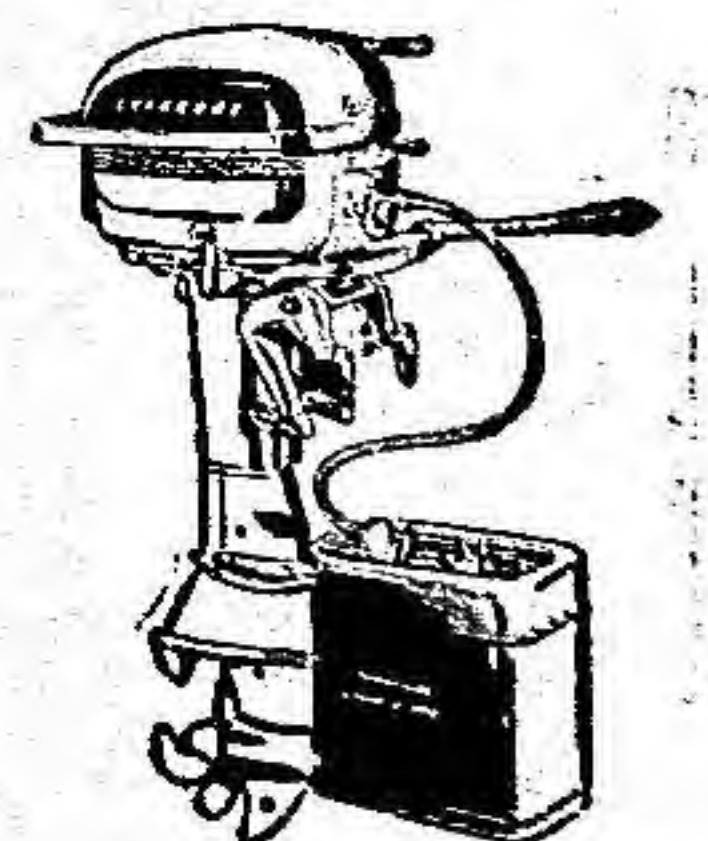

Aurora Cycling Club, after a shut-down of several years, re-organized Tuesday at a meeting held at Cliff Chapman's residence. Officers elected were: hon. pres., Dr. C. R. Boulding, John Offord; pres., Cliff Chapman; sec., Earl Feren; treas., "Speed" McCleeny; publicity director, Bob Benville.

A further meeting is planned for Tuesday, May 13, at Cliff Chapman's home, 71 George St., Aurora. Meeting is called for 8 p.m. Everyone interested in cycling in the Aurora-Newmarket district is asked to attend.

"We're trying to boost our membership - eleven attended Tuesday's meeting - there must be a good many more interested in cycling in this district - we'd like to see them next Tuesday," reports Bob Benville. Anyone wishing particulars or information on the club in Newmarket can contact Bob Benville, 600w.

Club colors will be blue and gold, sweaters will be purchased. Road races for the Dawson Trophy and other prizes will be conducted throughout the summer.

Salute To Stouffville, '52 Champs

Orchids to Telf Rennie, Tim O'Neill, Bob Bangay and all the rest who saw the end of the rainbow arrive on Saturday night as they annexed the Senior B Championship of Ontario by sinking Port Colborne in the fifth game 6-2. It's the finish of a four-year drive by Stouffville sportsmen, hexed by the O.H.A. and the doctory Markham Millionaires, who finally retired this winter.

It's the first hockey championship for Stouffville, and the sixth O.H.A. honor to come to North York over the years (Newmarket junior "A" in 1933, Aurora junior "C" in 1939, Aurora Army intermediate "A" in 1943, Sutton Greenshirts intermediate "A" in 1942, Markham junior "C" in 1941.)

There have been four rural crowns, and several other honors on the ice lanes come to North York, but let's only consider the cream of the crop.

"Sir Robert", in his second year as a coach, justified the confidence of his friends, and you'll remember that there were those who would have been glad to see Bangay pole-axed last spring. This is the second championship team for Bob and brother Nick, who were with Markham juniors in '42. Hal Gibson, the team captain, is no tyro for O.H.A. honors having played with Georgetown. The rest are experiencing their first title thrill, but many of them have been close before.

Aurora gets a kick out of seeing Moo Petch, Aurora Jrs. of '50, and George Stark, Aurora Jrs. of '42, getting their awards; Aurora also recalls that Jack Rumney was with Aurora Indians last winter.

Richmond Hill smiles and applauds as Normie Stouden, and Herbie Rose step up for a medal. Jackie Watson, Bud Watson and Rumney give the Markham Township touch for actually there's a native Stouffville on the club. Jim Machin, Bert Baker, Hal Gibson, Ron Bell and Art Stephenson add the "near-Toronto" touch. Polly Minton, and the Bangays are Markham Village by-products or close by.

Blake Eatough, former Weston goalie, hails from Weston. Newmarket claims a bit of honor as Stark played with the Veterans a few years ago.

Like Harper, Stouffville resident who manages the club, was a member of Markham Jrs. in 1942. Nice to see fellows like Ronnie and O'Neill get their hopes realized and we hope too, recoup the financial losses of other years. The Stouffville players will cut a nice melon this year. Those who saw the opposition from Peterborough and Port Colborne won't be kidded by the record the Clippers had against Newmarket Spits. They played much better hockey in their own section. Nevertheless, a sudden-death, winner-take-all, brawl with Eddie Bush's Collingwood Shipbuilders, the "intermediate A" winners, would be worth seeing. Wouldn't bet a dime on the outcome, however.

Stouffville, probably the staidest and most upright centre in these parts, actually broke their reserve on Saturday night as the cup came there. The fans have been mighty loyal—it was their night to howl.

On the Distaff Side: Marg. McCarnan is this year coaching softball in Toronto, and will of course probably give her proteges a few timely examples of how the game should be played by way of pinch-hitting. The Newmarket gal is coaching Northtowns of the Danforth loop, and she's one of the few lady coaches in the game.

Mrs. Geo. Costford of Aurora has had her owner's license renewed by the Ontario Racing Commission for the 20th straight year. The Costford stable is practically non-existent now, but who can tell when it will blossom out again. Mrs. Campbell McKenzie of Toronto, formerly Marjorie Whiteoak of Aurora, is the chairman of the administration committee of the Canadian Ladies' Golf Association. Mrs. McKenzie has recently completed a grade A job, with the rebuilding, reproducing, and new additions for C.L.G.A. golf trophies which burned last year at a club house fire in Quebec.

With regret comes the news that George Staley, coach of Stouffville Ladies' Softball club, had decided to call it a day. Sport can ill lose a chap as energetic as Mr. Staley.

Incidental Items: Chuck Henderson, who played junior "C" hockey against Aurora in 1950 with Midland Greenshirts, was a member of the Memorial Cup winning Guelph Biltmores this year. Junior C grouping, according to the gossip at the O.H.A. convention, would present Fergus, the present junior "D" champs, Elmira, strengthened by the remnants of this year's Hespeler club who will drop out, Georgetown or Milton, and Aurora in a group calculated to be well balanced and a money-maker.

Nobleton, according to coach Jack Barrington, will not face the junior barrier again, and that would mean that the Bears would territorially be entitled to the available players. Would you like to see Woods, the Ash Brothers, Ham, and others on the Aurora club? Sounds mighty good.

Roby Forhan will definitely be lost to Aurora next winter. He's on the Maple Leafs list right now and will be assigned to Weston Dukes who are the present junior "B" winners. The Dukes had most of the boys who played against Aurora last winter, but their age average was no more than 17 years—the youngest set of junior champs in the history of the O.H.A. in any series.

Russell Rowe, who has been playing hockey at Bracebridge this winter, has returned to the Sutton district and will play for the Greenshirts this summer. High Pockets Miller, former Stouffville hurler who was with Oshawa last summer, is playing for Deland Red Hats in the Florida State league. Stan has won his first three starts. It's a St. Louis Browns farm club. Miller, however, has no contract with St. Louis. Earl Cook, veteran hurler of the Stouffville Red Sox, has definitely retired from baseball. "Cookie" was in hospital for several weeks this spring and after over 25 years of competition from sandlot to the big leagues he's content to sit by the fire.

John Stuart, former Aurora boy, still has that golden touch. On Monday his horse Filigal was entered in a claiming race at Dufferin. Doug. Ness put in a claim for $1,600. As a result of injuries, Filigal had to be destroyed after the race, with Mr. Stuart pocketing the look, under the rules. Incidentally, Night Fire, a new member of the Stuart stables, won the stable's first race last Saturday.

North Simcoe baseball presents a smart circuit this year with Barrie Flyers, Orillia Terriers, Penetang, Creemore Red Sox, Midland Indians and Collingwood Shipbuilders entered. All clubs are strengthened by imports and Midland has been bringing in players who can play hockey as well as ball. Doug. Plunkett, former Peterborough hurler, and Don Newman from London are Barrie additions. Lefty McCartney, who tossed nice ball for Creemore, has shifted to Orillia. South Simcoe clubs will do well to look to their payers. South Simcoe softball finds Bradford, Cookstown, Tottenham, Fennels and Bond Head ready to renew their old rivalry.

Looks like a good thing that Stouffville Mercantiles didn't enter the North York play-offs won by Woodbridge. Uxbridge, who are playing off with Stouffville Maple Leafs in the finals, whipped the rural champs, Sutton Greenshirts, in an exhibition tilt and Sutton had Ronnie Rowe as added strength. Despite what you hear, Collingwood are definitely planning on a junior team for next year. Goalie Don. Hudson, defenceman Gerry. Forch, forwards Ron Moore, Jim. Cole, Merv. Smith, Albert Wahmsley and Jim Barrett, are all eligible again regardless of any age change. If the age limit is raised the club will practically be intact except for Val Walker. In addition to Andy Closs, imports from South Porcupine and Simcoe are ready to move to the Georgian Bay metropolis. Make no mistake about it, the arena simply can't afford to drop junior hockey and the fans demand a winner, and support one too, regardless of the opposition.

Land For Wading Pool Given Recreation Comm. Work Commended

A new children's wading pool for the town of Aurora, to be built on property south of the arena by the recreation commission, was given approval of town council Monday night. Council granted permission to the swimming pool committee of the recreation commission to make use of the town-owned property next to the arena.

William H. Case, secretary of the committee, estimated the cost to be about $2,500. Council was not asked for a grant other than the use of the property. Mr. Case said the pool would be one and a half feet deep at one end and three and a half feet at the other.

Deputy-Reeve James Murray, also a member of the committee, said, "It will give children from 12 to 14 a chance to learn at least to do the dog paddle and at the same time be suitable for smaller children."

Mr. Case said that the dressing room facilities in the arena could be used to advantage. With arena facilities close to the pool, costs would be cut down, he said.

Prohibitive Cost of Pool

The committee abandoned the idea of a swimming pool because of prohibitive costs.

"Since the formation of the committee," said Mr. Case in his report, "many meetings have been held and much material obtained from neighboring towns and cities who operate community swimming pools and after much discussion and consideration, it has been decided to abandon the swimming pool idea for the present time at least, in view of the present day cost of material and labor, as it was learned that a suitable pool would cost $85,000."

"We have learned that the material necessary for a wading pool of 30' by 60' would cost approximately $1,200 and if dressing rooms and other facilities were not required to be built, we are of the opinion that such a pool could be constructed for about $2,500 complete. We would also like to point out that the arena facilities would only be required by the wading pool during the season when they are not needed or used by the arena," said Mr. Case.

"Mr. Case and his committee should be complimented," said Reeve A. A. Cooke. "I for one would be happy to leave it in their hands."

"It will be an ideal spot," said the deputy-reeve. "With the extra work that's going to be done around the arena this year, it will be a wonderful place."

On a motion by Deputy-Reeve Murray, council approved that the creek bed be tiled from the south side of the arena to the bridge and that the committee be given permission to use the land for a wading pool.

Ask New Sewers

Council gave its attention to a petition from Hillview Road property owners for new sewers. Although the petition asked for sanitary sewers, Deputy-Reeve Murray said that what the residents probably had in mind was a storm sewer to take off surface water.

The property-owners' delegation said that the people wanted both sanitary and storm sewers. "Storm sewers would have to be kept separate from sanitary sewers because the sewage disposal plant could not handle the surface water volume," said Mr. Murray. "The sewage disposal plant is handling about all it can take. It won't take any more now unless it is expanded and that would be a costly undertaking," he said.

Reeve Cooke suggested that a petition for a storm sewer be prepared immediately so that work could go ahead and that a new petition for sanitary sewers be circulated for a larger area taking in more than the Hillview residents. Mr. Cooke said the "whole picture" might as well be taken into a sanitary sewer system.

Mayor Crawford Rose warned that if Kennedy St. were taken into the system, its sewers would have to be deepened. The mayor said that if a trunk sewer were to be built, he didn't know whether the residents would want to wait for their sanitary sewers until it was completed.

Council approved of Deputy-Reeve Murray at least going ahead on engineering plans for the storm sewer part of the project.

Fire Department

Councillor Victor Jones requested council to approve of a $798 expenditure for new equipment for the fire department. The items included a 2½ inch nozzle, half a dozen helmets, 10 feet of long hard suction hose and two "air packs" with an extra tank for fire victims in smoke-filled buildings.

Councillor King said that it was "a small sum if it is going to save a fireman's or someone else's life." Mr. Jones said that the department would like other items of equipment, including more hose, costing $500, and a hose dryer but were not making the request at the present time.

A tender for the rental of the north-west room in the upstairs of the town clerk's building until the end of May was accepted by council. The temporary tenant tendering was the Aurora Civic Progress Committee.

Real Oil

Aurora's streets will take enough road oil to fill one large railway tank car and two small ones, according to Deputy-Reeve Murray's estimates. He said that he had obtained a price of 21.5c per gallon for the oil. Last year, two large tank cars of oil were used.

"Three new streets in Aurora will soak up the oil this year," he said. He also suggested oiling the municipal parking lot and behind the clerk's offices. He added that he thought "a large area behind the stores on Yonge St. could be utilized for municipal parking."

The clerk's office was given authority to disregard May 15 as a deadline for tax discounts. Since tax slips are not out yet, the date has been changed to June 1.

Councillor Tucker voiced complaints of residents about the police prosecuting car owners for leaving autos on Aurora (Page 13, Col. 3)

MRS. W. A. M. CODY DIES SUDDENLY

A large number of Aurora residents were shocked to learn on Sunday morning, May 4, of the sudden death of Mrs. W. A. M. Cody, immediately after the conclusion of the 11 o'clock service at Trinity Anglican church, which she had attended with her husband. She was a life-long Anglican and devoted church-worker.

Although Mrs. Cody had not been in the best of health for some time, she had carried on her normal activities and the many social interests in which she delighted. As recently as Wednesday afternoon, April 30, she was present at a Trend Tea at St. Andrew's College.

On Sunday morning she appeared to be in her usual health when she left her home on Maple street in the company of Mr. Cody, who drove to the church. Immediately after the service she went to the vestry where she was seen to fall. She expired immediately.

Mrs. Cody will be sorely missed by all who knew her. She was a cultivated and charming woman, possessed of a gay and happy nature, and a conversationalist who was both witty and humorous. She was well read and had many interests.

Mrs. Cody was a descendant of a famous Aurora pioneering family, the Legges. She was born in Aurora, where she remained all her life. Besides her husband, Mr. W. A. M. Cody, she is survived by one son and one daughter, Jay and Betty, and three grandchildren. Mr. Cody and family have been the recipients of a large number of messages of sympathy in their irreparable loss.

"KNOCKING THE TOWN"

There is a new game being played by some people in Aurora at the present time who don't like their public work adversely discussed. Their game is to describe their critics as "knockers". Honest criticism they dismiss as "knocking the town". The game is getting very boring, and we suggest that those who feel themselves unfairly criticized should resort to facts by way of rejoinder rather than an appeal to sentiment of a juvenile character.

Fortunately there are "knockers" who do not fear to speak their minds and who, far from injuring their town, are helping to improve it. They are drawing attention to defects here and there and thus providing opportunities for their correction. Why should such men, some of whom are native-born and substantial taxpayers, be improperly accused of "knocking their town?"

What a town has most to fear in its public men is not a tendency to criticize but to become complacent. Complacency encourages a neglect of obvious needs; and there the "knocker" performs a most useful service. He raps on the door of indifference, to rouse the "sleepers" behind it.

"BOOSTING THE TOWN"

Then there are the town "boosters". Aurora, they say, is ripe for a "bursting-at-the-seams" with a new population and new industries. Last year the Board of Trade bought a page of the Banner for $94, and persuaded the town council to do the same, for a great special supplement issue of the "home-town paper" to put Aurora "on the map".

People who bought the paper found other free copies in their mail, while all around the neighborhood special supplements fluttered down into harmless households with the ease of snowflakes falling in the backyard. Then the citizens learned that far from Aurora "bursting-at-the-seams" the assessor and the census takers had found that the population was 300 less than the figures shown on town documents.

Now the "boosters" are at it again! The Board of Trade is having "pep" literature printed at an approximate cost of $150, of which the taxpayers will pay half, by consent of the council. And even while this yeasty work is going on it is admitted that one worthwhile industry wanting to locate in Aurora cannot do so because the town hasn't got enough water.

No water, no industries. Then why waste the taxpayers' money.

MURRAY ANSWERS HIS CRITICS

In view of the publicity given by the Aurora Banner to criticisms of Councillor Jim Murray, it would have been grossly unfair to him had there been no press report of what took place at the Recreation commission meeting on Thursday evening, May 1, when he took the first opportunity of repudiating the charges appearing in the other paper.

The Aurora Banner had batted to the fullest possible extent on material which it described in large-type headline as "Unwarranted Criticism", and this had come by processes of twisting and distortion to suggest that Mr. Murray had made personal criticisms of the Arena manager, which he has at no time done.

The sordid processes eventually implicated, as was no doubt intended, Aurora News Page, and one member of the commission innocently fell into the trap. Without having read our paper, as he admitted, he rebuked us at the meeting concerned by expressing his "disappointment that we had not refuted the unwarranted and unnecessary criticisms". As Mr. Murray said on our behalf, we could hardly be expected to refute what we hadn't published!

Mr. Murray attended the Recreation commission meeting where the criticisms were levelled against him, but he had advised his colleagues that he had to leave early, and the charges were made in his absence and he was aware of them only when he read them in the Banner. He is the last man to accept unfounded criticisms and he demolished them with a preciseness and completeness that allowed of no compromise. When his cross-examinations were over there was literally nothing left of the charges.

The unhappy incident provides one more proof of what we have asserted from time to time: That Banner reports and opinions should be perused with extreme caution, if readers would guard against distortion and misrepresentation.

GOOD REPORTS

Wading Pool Site Selected Hockey Team Crests Granted By Recreation Commission

With Don Glass in the chair, supported by J. E. Buchanan, Councillors Corbett and Murray, Rev. G. H. Purchase, W. Allen, J. Offord, L. Steadman, secretary-treasurer, W. Harvey Bell and recreation director, P. E. Perryment, the Recreation Commission had a full agenda at its meeting on Thursday evening, May 1. Highlighting the proceedings was a spirited reply to his critics by Councillor Jim Murray, reported in other columns.

After the passing of the minutes of the previous meeting, committee reports were received.

The chairman read an appreciative letter from the Aurora Figure Skating club, in which thanks were expressed for the assistance given the members by the commission. Mr. Glass commented that it was always a pleasant experience to receive letters of thanks.

Mr. Buchanan reported very favorably on the handicraft classes, and as a member of the public school board Mr. Offord said the classes would always receive helpful co-operation from the board.

Crest for Girls

Mr. Harvey Bell was appointed convener of committees for proposed band concerts, and for the social committee Mr. Offord reported that the attendances at the dances were being well sustained.

Mr. W. Allen introduced the subject of presenting the Aurora ladies' hockey team with crests and after some discussion the proposal was unanimously agreed upon, Councillor Murray, P. E. Perryment and others heartily supporting it.

Recreation director, Mr. P. E. Perryment, gave an impressive report on playground and other kindred activities, stating that there was a very considerable amount of good potential hockey talent in Aurora, which ought to receive every encouragement. He also instanced the success which had attended square dancing.

The commission resolved to co-operate with the Lions club in connection with their annual carnival in the town park on May 24.

Wading Pool Project

Much discussion took place on a proposed wading pool to be installed at the south side of the arena, this matter to come before council. In a lengthy review of the work of the committee concerned, Mr. Les. Steadman informed the commission of the work that had been done, stating that there had been many offers of sites.

The committee felt that they had now secured the best possible site for the pool and final approval would rest with council.

The chairman commended the committee on its excellent work.

Parks Board Suggestion

A request from the chairman of the Parks board that the commission undertake the work of bulldozing a portion of the McMahon park situated on the north side of the Lawn Bowling club's premises was not given very favorable consideration, members taking the view that the request was a matter for the town council rather than the commission. Some opinions were expressed that the number of children using the location did not warrant the expense involved.

Thanks to Firemen

The commission expressed its wish to put on record its appreciation of the firemen in granting its club room for commission meetings, the chairman stating that the use of their room was a fine gesture on the part of the firemen.

It was resolved by the commission to enquire from the firemen if they would be willing to accept a portrait of her Majesty, the Queen, to hang on a wall of their club room, as a token of appreciation for the commission's use of their room.

CLEARING THE AIR

Murray Demolishes Attacks And Unwarranted Criticism As Banner Takes A Beating

Rising at the conclusion of other business at the Recreation Commission meeting May 1, Councillor Jim Murray said he wished to make a personal statement, and to ask some questions of members whose comments at the April 17 meeting had been reported in the Aurora Banner in its issue of April 24.

Remarking that he was a believer in short speeches, he said he feared he would be much longer than usual on the present occasion.

In his opening remarks, Mr. Murray said he had liked being a member of the Recreation commission, where he had found a friendly, amicable atmosphere. He was all the more surprised, therefore, to find reports in the Banner which were certainly not friendly or amicable, but appeared to reflect on himself. They would have to be cleared up to his satisfaction.

He reminded his colleagues that at the meeting in question he had stated that he would have to leave early. Had he known of what was to happen after he had left the meeting he would have made other arrangements before coming there.

A Surprise Letter

Mr. Murray said that the letter which had been sent to council expressing confidence in their Arena manager, Mr. Perryment, had taken him completely by surprise, for the manager's ability and competence had never been questioned by him at the council meeting where the work of the Arena board was under discussion. All that he had mentioned was the question of the allocation of the manager's time between the rink and the recreation commission, and whether such time was being used to the best advantage.

Such questions, said Mr. Murray, he had a right to ask as a member of council and the Arena board.

There was a great difference between discussing how the arena manager's time should be used and that of questioning his

MURRAY'S QUESTIONS

"Accusation" Dismissed
Turning to Mr. Offord, Mr. Murray then read a statement in the Banner which reported Mr. Offord as having said "it was unfortunate that Mr. Murray chose the way he did to bring his accusation out in council."

"What accusation did I make?" asked Mr. Murray.
"Things you said could have damaged the town and lost it money," replied Mr. Offord.

"What things did I say that could have damaged the town and lost it money? I was born in Aurora and have been a taxpayer for many years. Why should I wish to damage the town or see it lose money?"

Mr. Offord said that he formed his opinion on what he had read in the press.

"Which press are you referring to?" the editor of Aurora News Page enquired of Mr. Offord.

"What I read was in the Banner," said Mr. Offord, adding that "they don't think very much of it at the rink after what it printed."

Mr. Murray then made an acid comment that the "whole thing was a smoke-screen to cover up the real issues in the Arena board discussion at council."

Other Statements

Saying that he accepted Mr. Offord's assurance that he had been misled by Banner reports, Mr. Murray said that he could understand why the Rev. Purchase had felt "agitated" over what he had read. "There is a lot of difference," he said, "between discussing what work a man should do and his ability to do it. The Arena manager's ability had never been questioned in council. All he had questioned was whether the work was being divided up to the best interests of all concerned. He was on council to look after the interests of the ratepayers and he would carry out his duties to them."

Concerning Mr. Les Steadman, Mr. Murray then read a statement attributed to him in the Banner, which reported that Mr. Steadman was "disappointed in the Newmarket Era and Express that it did not refute some of the unfair, unwarranted and unnecessary criticism."

"What did you mean by that?" asked Mr. Murray.

Mr. Steadman admitted that on the evening when he made the statement he had not read either the Banner or the Newmarket Era, "but had heard others talking about what was in the papers."

Asking the chairman's leave to speak, the editor of Aurora News Page asked Mr. Steadman if it were true he had not read Aurora News Page at the time he had criticized it? Mr. Steadman admitted that that was so, and in answer to a further question if he had spoken under a misapprehension, he agreed that he had done so.

Mr. Murray said that the editor of Aurora News Page could not refute something that his paper had not published. He said that it was the Arena board, not the recreation director and Arena manager, that had been under discussion, and repeated his charge that a smoke-screen had been sent up to cover the real issue under discussion.

Suggest No Report

At the conclusion of Mr. Murray's questions and comments, Councillor Corbett suggested that the press publish no report of what had taken place. He thought it would be better not to.

Chairman Don Glass dissented from the suggestion made by Councillor Corbett and said that they could not dictate to the press what it should, or should not, publish. "The press," he said, "had a perfect right to publish what it thought fit, unless there were special reasons for requesting an opposite course. He did not consider that applied to the present situation and he would advise that the press choose its own course in the matter. However, if someone felt that he would like to second a motion on the lines of what Mr. Corbett had suggested, he would put it to a vote."

As no member of the commission voiced an support of Councillor Corbett's suggested motion, the matter ended and the meeting adjourned.

King Township Briefs

Road Levy Approved
Approval by the provincial department of highways has been given to King township council for an expenditure of $90,000 on roads and maintenance. Fifty percent of this amount is granted in subsidy from the department. The department requested that the levy be not exceeded.

New Road Grader Selected

From eight tenders submitted on purchase of a new road grading and maintenance machinery, the award was made to George W. Crothers, Ltd. of Leaside for a 100 horse power machine with snow plow and wings.

School Area By-Law

A by-law setting up King township school area No. 1 at Kettleby received two readings at council on May 5. The area which comprises four existing school sections, will be effective after Dec. 25, 1952.

On the request of Holland Marsh farmers, approval was given for the appointment of Albert Vandyke to act as supervisor of Marsh pumps in the drainage system at 75 cents per hour. He has the privilege of naming his assistant at the same pay per hour. New pumps in the northwest corner of the Marsh are doing excellent work and residents are well pleased with the job, the reeve said.

Village Waterworks Pays Way

"King City waterworks scheme is paying its way," S. S. Stewart Joscelyn, King township auditor, told council at Monday's meeting at Nobleton. In 1951, the revenue was $1,915 while operating costs were $712, leaving an excess of $1,203. A surplus of $2,483 accrued over two years, but because there were not enough funds in the waterworks debenture to meet this expenditure, the police village had to dig into its funds. The first three years of operation are rosy; after that, repairs can be expected.

Mr. Joscelyn pointed out that the police village carries no insurance covering all operations of the waterworks system. He said he had seen no policies of liability insurance.

Auditor Presents His Report

When S. Stewart Joscelyn, King township auditor, presented accounts to council, he said the financial situation of the municipality is good and he found the books in good shape. He compared tax rolls and percentages of collections ending Dec. 31 in 1942 to 1951. The tax levy in 1942 was $82,688.38 while the 1951 figure was $185,224.82. Collections in 1942 were 84.36 percent and in 1951 were 84.73 percent of the total roll.

The Holland Marsh had its best years in 1945-46 and its worst in 1950-51. The Marsh dropped 14 of its roll in 1951, in collections. It takes three years to clear off the load, he stated.

"The Aurora high school is in the best shape of any school I have," commented the auditor. Compared to the mill rate in some other schools, Aurora H. S. district is good, said Reeve Armstrong.

A cheque for $515 was given to the auditor for his work on township books and auditing King City waterworks statement which cost $15.

Seeks Cemetery Improvement

A letter from Mrs. Harry Burns, secretary of Kettleby Women's Institute, asked council to beautify the front of Kettleby cemetery. The correspondence pointed out that grading would be one way of improving the appearance of the grounds.

When a letter from Mrs. Dave Glass of King City inquired about bicycle riding on the village streets, council asked the clerk to refer her inquiry to the village commissioners, where a by-law is in effect in the village in that regard.

1. THE LIQUOR INTERESTS want outlets in Aurora because they know it will increase sales and thereby profits.

All these outlets are, as it were, chain store operations. By the law of averages, the liquor outlets proposed for Aurora will take, annually, from Aurora residents alone the sum of $185,000.00, (and from the Aurora market area between $200,000.00 and $250,000.00 — or one quarter of a million dollars). This is all cash business. Will the local business and professional people be left holding the credit bag?

2. MANY OF OUR BUSINESS PEOPLE do not want these outlets. They see what will happen.

3. THE TEACHERS, DOCTORS AND MINISTERS are generally agreed they do not want them because such stores would be a serious detriment to the welfare of children and youth.

IT'S A Woman's World
By CAROLINE ION

The R.C.M.P. is famous the world over for being able to get its man. Before long the North York Humane Society will have earned a similar reputation for steadfastness in the pursuits of its duty. When it comes to tracking down the owner of a lost animal, they out-sleuth even Dick Tracy.

A short time ago a black and white husky dog was brought into the Humane Society's kennels in Newmarket. You can imagine everyone's amazement when it was learned that the dog bore a license from White Horse in the Yukon Territories. But, there it was. The tag clearly said, No. 290, 1951-1952. White Horse. How could the dog have been lost in this district?

About this time, Mrs. Charles Griffiths, the society's secretary, began to take an interest in this intelligent animal. She decided to telegraph Whitehorse in the chance that they could locate the owner in that way. For a time, the Humane Society executive felt they were on the right trail. "It won't be long now before you'll be with your rightful owner," they reassured the husky who seemed to be taking the escapade much better than his temporary benefactors.

Shortly an answer was received from Whitehorse, giving the owner's name as well as the dog's. Now they knew that No. 290 was really "Smokey". You get much letter tail ways from a name than a number. No self-respecting dog wants to be known as just a grouping of numerals on a license tag.

But, after the first moments of exultation over their good news, they realized that the name of the owner is not too much of a lead when no one knows his present address. What Next?

The situation remained unchanged for several days. No matter where they inquired no further particulars regarding the owner could be unearthed. The society hadn't sufficient money to advertise in the dog's behalf. It did seem such a shame that a fine animal like "Smokey" couldn't be with his rightful master.

"Why don't we write to the Small Types Club, C.J.B.C., Toronto," someone suggested. Byng Whittaker is always finding homes for kittens and puppies. Maybe he can help locate our man. So, such a letter was written.

We were almost finished lunch; it was six minutes to one when we heard Byng mention the North York Humane Society. Like a well-trained police dog, our ears pointed; we were on the alert and with interest we heard Byng tell the story of "Smokey" which until then was unknown to us. Our curiosity was aroused. We could hardly wait to inquire from the society as to the results of the broadcast.

"Would 'Smokey's' owner be located? Would it be possible to find another home for him if no further news was received? It would be terrible if he had to be put to sleep. Why, this story had more interest, drama and pathos than an entire week of 'Big Brother', 'Ma Snorkins' or 'Life Can Be Miserable'."

We didn't wait long for news. At 1.10 a corporal stationed at Camp Borden telephoned the Newmarket number. "Was just listening to 'Small Types' (No doubt the sergeant's favorite program) and heard about Smokey. His owner is a friend of mine and is now living in Toronto." At last the elusive address had been obtained.

We should have started this story with a "Once upon a time" . . . for like all good stories it has a happy ending. Smokey's master was located. The two were reunited and we can only hope that they will "live happily ever after" thanks to the North York Humane Society. Appropriate to Week

It seemed appropriate that during "Be Kind to Animals Week", May 4 to 10, that such a story should come to our attention. It illustrates the work the North York Humane Society will do to locate an animal's owner. In this case they had the tag on which to work. When they find an untagged stray the job is even more difficult, but they try.

The local society joins with more than 600 other animal welfare organizations throughout Canada and the United States in observing this special B.K.A. week. The event is designed to focus attention on the needs of animals, both domestic and wild.

During the week an interesting display will be presented in the window of Robert Yates' former store. Each day a different group of animals will be on show and members of the society will be there to answer questions regarding animal care and training and to tell of the work of the society.

The John Stallard Memorial shelter, located at Main St. North, is open to the public daily. During the weekdays, children and adults can visit the shelter at hours to be announced. Animals are available for adoption from the shelter.

Mrs. David Askew, president of the society, has said that "too few people really know what their local humane society does." Pointing to the service of the North York Humane Society since its organization last year, she said, "here in Newmarket we have a group who are giving willingly of their time and money to maintain an adequate animal welfare program. We think many more people should know what is being done."

INDIA MISSIONARY HEARD BY BAPTISTS

Mrs. J. B. McLaurin was guest speaker at a meeting of the Women's Mission Circle, Christian Baptist church, on April 24. Present were representatives from the mission groups of the Baptist churches at Aurora, King, Pottageville and Schomberg. Mrs. William Epworth presided.

Mrs. Fred Breckon introduced Mrs. McLaurin who with her husband, Dr. John B. McLaurin, devoted many years to mission work in India. Dr. McLaurin was born in India, his parents having gone there as missionaries in 1874.

Mrs. McLaurin gave a comprehensive account of India, its people, their living habits, clothing, customs and the climatic conditions. She stressed the great need in India today for Christian help. Workers who would continue the missionary endeavors were especially wanted. Mrs. McLaurin closed her talk by saying, "Now is our day in India. We must make our friendship to them felt."

Mrs. Sidney Jones moved the vote of thanks to the speaker on behalf of the members and their many guests. Soloists were Mrs. B. Lee and Mrs. W. Hillaby.

A social hour followed the business session when refreshments were served.

BROWNIES CONTINUE MONTHLY MEETINGS

Newmarket Brownies will continue to meet on Monday nights of each week at the Scout Hall. Because of the increased enrolment, a second pack has been formed. In the fall the two groups will meet separately.

The leaders felt that it would be easier to make preparations for the many coming events involving Brownies if the children remained together. Mrs. Ray Sherrard is Brown Owl. Her Tawny Owl is Mrs. Orley Hayes. Elva Koshel, Miss Audrey Rowland and Miss Margaret King are assisting in the Brownie work in Newmarket.

The Brownies will hold their Cookie day on Saturday, May 17, the date when all orders of cookies are to be delivered. On Thursday, May 29, the annual Mother and Daughter banquet will be held for the Brownies. HORT. SOC. HEARS EXPERT GARDENER

The school room of Trinity United church was crowded on Friday, May 2, when local gardeners turned out to hear John Bradshaw address a general meeting of the Newmarket Horticultural Society. Mrs. Nelson presided.

Mr. Bradshaw spoke on "Your Garden in 1952". He was introduced by Mr. Donaldson, director of the district V.L.A. office. Mr. Bradshaw is well known for his radio programs and for his gardening columns which appear in the Toronto Star Weekly and the Saturday edition of the Toronto Star.

A veteran of the R.C.A.F. and the son of a nurseryman, John Bradshaw was for several years associated with V.L.A. as a horticulturalist.

Mr. Bradshaw spoke on lawns, hedges, shade trees, small fruits and shrubs and following his talk he answered a steady stream of questions until time for him to leave. Starting his day at 4:30 a.m. as he has his first daily broadcast at 6:30, he extended his working hours freely to give valuable assistance to members of the Newmarket Horticultural Society and their friends. Mrs. C. E. Wheeland moved a vote of thanks to the speaker.

The meeting opened with the singing of the National Anthem with Norman Hurrell at the piano. Attractively arranged bouquets of flowers from the garden of Mr. and Mrs. Orley Hayes decorated the room and a successful sale of potted plants was conducted by Mrs. Charles Harman with over $6 being raised for the society. Most of the house plants sold for ten or fifteen cents.

Mrs. W. D. Marrow was in charge of the program. The group, which numbered over 100, were greeted upon their arrival by Mrs. W. E. Walton. At the close of the meeting, light refreshments were served under the convenship of Mrs. Elgin Evans when everyone had the opportunity to meet the speaker.

The winners may make their own selection of wallpaper. The last six prizes are six quarts of Flo-Glaze colorizer paint in any of the 1,322 colors available.

The demonstration will include instruction in hanging your own paper and pointers on how to paper around doors, windows and light switches. Tickets are obtainable from members of the Newmarket Institute.

Religious Instruction Held 'Must' In Schools

Speaking to the Newmarket Home and School association at its April meeting, Rev. Fred Breckon said that he firmly believed religious education should be a prescribed course for the boys and girls of the public schools today. Rev. Breckon spoke on the relationship of freedom of religions as one of the four freedoms.

Referring to the quotation, "There can be no good society without perfect freedom," Rev. Breckon defined freedom as the state of being exempt from domination of our surroundings; of others about us or over us; the right of personal or self expression.

"Have we applied this thought to the phase of religion?" he asked. Religion must carry with it our personal freedom from domination by others. We as individuals have the right to worship as we individually believe we ought. But this freedom given with its privileges presents problems which we must all face.

One of the most serious problems is the question of religious education in our schools. Some feel it should be a voluntary matter, others that it should be a prescribed course. "When we have freedom, are there not boundaries we ought to determine," asked the speaker. Authority comes only when we have established the real facts.

We have prescribed the three R's be taught in our schools for we recognize them as the basic requirements in our children's training. Why haven't we required that religious education be taught similarly by the teachers in the classrooms? Religious education should come with greater authority than a minister visiting a school command. It should come from the teacher behind the desk. The only problem is to establish that particular course in religious education which is basic to our Protestant beliefs.

"I respect very highly the concept of the Separate schools regarding their religious education. They have the secret whereby boys and girls will be brought to adulthood fully aware of the fundamental doctrine of their church. It is not just by attendance at church or by instruction in the home. But, by inclusion of religious education in the curriculum of the school. The separate schools lead us today in the way we ought to deal with this side of the child's life."

"Only in this way can we give our boys and girls a basic freedom which will serve them when they are grown... a freedom based on spiritual experience."

"Are we trying to put yesterday's religion on today's experience? Is the religion we have one that will give our children the freedom they'll need in the world to come? Freedom of religion will give authority. Are we sending out our boys and girls with any authority? Will they say my parents and teacher knew. They taught me and I know."

"Freedom or liberty of action is associated with a knowledge of the basic fundamentals. Have

King Girl Visits U.N.

Miss Betty Scott, grade 13 student of Aurora high school, had a thrilling experience when she had the honor to represent Aurora on the educational trip to United Nations, New York city, during the latter part of April. She was one of a group of six girls representing some of York County's high schools, who travelled by airplane for a five-day tour of the United Nations headquarters.

The party and Mrs. Hearson, a Markham teacher and the chaperon, sat in on two sessions in the secretariat building where the commission on "Human Rights" was discussing the technical phraseology of the subject. "We were unable to appreciate the text of discussions, as the commission kept referring to 'certain sections,' and what the different wordings implied," said Betty. "I did, however, like seeing Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and observe her manner of speaking. We used earphones and were impressed with the thoroughness and detailed study that goes into the problems that affect our lives and the way of living."

There were other places of interest to see that left the visiting students wondering where the time went. They climbed to the 102nd storey of the Empire State Building, where the view was more wonderful than Betty had ever dreamed of. They saw Times Square at night, where one can see "six show places on one side and four on the other."

The girls shopped on Fifth Ave., "where good clothes are highly priced and cheap things really look cheap," according to Betty. They were at Radio City and saw "Singing in the Rain." They talked to Vincent Lopez at Hotel Taft. He wanted the Canadian girls to try one of his comic musical contests. They didn't. It was fun anyway.

At St. Thomas Anglican Cathedral, Betty and her chums worshipped on Sunday. They saw Rockefeller Centre and the Hayden Planetarium.

"It was a wonderful trip but I do not think I would like to live in New York city," said Betty.

AURORA COUNCIL

streets overnight. Mayor Rose said he would take the matter up with the chief of police.

A by-law giving police powers to prosecute was passed at the request of police according to council. The reason they wanted the by-law was to keep 'derelict' cars from being left on the streets for days and weeks at a time. Councillor Murray said that council asked police to "go easy" in the winter while lanes and driveways were cluttered with snow. Councillor Trickett said he thought the by-law had been passed to facilitate snow removal in the winter.

F. J. Pickering, editor of the Aurora Banner, extended an invitation to members of council to attend a luncheon when the Central Ontario Press Association will be holding an annual meeting in Aurora, May 17. The luncheon will be held in the basement of the Legion hall at 12.30, the Banner acting as host.

"The purpose of this is to publicize Aurora and to show that it is not as black a town as we sometimes hear," said Col. Pickering.

The Lakeside branch held its annual meeting on April 29. The retiring president, Mrs. P. Mahoney, conducted the business session and received the reports of the year's activities from the convenors. Roll call and payment of dues followed. New members took charge of the program and gave interesting readings.

The nominating convenor, Mrs. J. Gable, handed the list of nominees to Mrs. Bains who took over the election of officers and paid worthy tribute to the retiring president, Mrs. Mahoney, and the secretary, Mrs. Rye, for their faithful service over the past year.

She welcomed the new president, Mrs. A. Pollock, to the chair and offered a few timely remarks, urging members to give constant support to their officers in the year ahead.

Mrs. Archie Sedore replied to the motto: "May is building her house with apple blossoms; she is roofing over the glimmering rooms."

An excellent report of the year's work was given by the secretary; $728 was made and there is a balance of $59 on hand.

A donation of $10 is being given to the Canadian National Institute for the Blind.

The custom of having a "Sunshine Sister" will be carried on again this year. On special occasions you remember her with a card and at the end of the year a gift, not to exceed one dollar. This exchange of gifts will take place at the June meeting.

CAN'T IGNORE THEM—THEY WON'T GO AWAY

Though Ottawa doesn't officially admit the existence of such things as "flying saucers" or the presence of unidentified aircraft in Canada's skies, high-ranking scientists and officers admit they are as mystified as anyone else about the numerous reports of strange-looking objects in the sky. Mrs. Harry Bennett and Mrs. Wesley Baker reported "two silver streaks" high in the air over Haliburton, Ont. Mrs. Marie Woodland, Hamilton, said she and several other women saw a "blimp-like object" hovering over Hamilton. And from various parts of the U.S. come reports of unidentified bodies always high in the air and always looking like no conventional craft.

So, while officially ignoring them,
Ottawa is collecting data that may explain every case as mere natural phenomenon—or, as the artist here suggests, as visiting airships from outer space.

Oak Ridges News

Home and School Meet

The Father's Night program at Oak Ridges Home and School meeting, April 29, arranged by Mr. John Martin, school principal, was a pleasant surprise to the many who were present.

Mr. Martin spoke on Child-Father relationship. Mr. Anderson of the teaching staff spoke on children and their hobbies, pointing out that parents should encourage and keep their children interested in useful pastime in the home.

Both he and Mr. Martin stressed the fact that in too many cases children are not adequately supervised by parents, and that too much is expected of teachers. Most teachers are doing a fine job during school hours but parents should co-operate by supplying social education after school hours, they said.

Mr. Anderson presented two folk dances by a group of boys to record music and Mr. Martin arranged a pantomime in which the boys acted out the folk song, "No, John, No". Taking part were Donald Ash, John Comfort, David Harrison, Ron Stephany, John Gallacher, Alvin Ryan, Harry Bohen and Ernest Rule.

Mrs. Stewart Acheson, association president, chaired the opening part of the meeting and Mrs. Harrison gave an excellent report on the Home and School convention held in connection with the O.E.A. during Easter week, in Toronto. A second delegate, Mrs. Appleton, explained her presentation of a convention scrap book, which she had compiled during the sessions. It was actually a record of news clippings, pictures, etc., which can be filed by the local association as a memo of the 1952 conference. Mrs. Appleton who is on the Oak Ridges school staff was also interested in the professional aspects of the Ontario Education Association.

Ross, Mrs. H. Pearson, Mr. Dawson, Mr. Ferguson, Mrs. Willhee, Mr. Jones. There will be choruses (unison, two part, three part, and four part), solos, duets, rhythm bands, folk dances. The festival is under the direction of Music Supervisor Mona Armstrong of Zephyr. The public is cordially invited.

Those who attended the supper and concert in the United Church on Monday evening enjoyed a real treat. The program put on by the Borden Choir of radio fame was all that one would want in fine talent and we do hope we may be favored some future time as we were lucky to get them among their many engagements. The ladies of the W. A. are grateful to all who made the evening a success.

cutting teeth these days.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Ash and Donnie spent the weekend visiting relatives and friends in the Port Hope district.

Farewell Evening

A gathering of friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stewardson met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Gemmill on Tuesday evening to wish them the best of luck as they move from Bond Ave. to Highland Creek, after residing at Oak Ridges for four years. Eighteen were present, enjoying court and later making a presentation as a token of pleasant friendship. Mrs. Bob Ash presented Mrs. Stewardson with a floral pottery vase and her husband with a set of crystal ash trays. The Stewardsons will be greatly missed in this community to which they had contributed talent and time.

Celebrates 83rd Birthday

Mr. and Mrs. John Durham of Oak Ridges and Mrs. Howard Cain, Newmarket, returned a week ago from Palm Beach, Fla., where they holidayed three months. Mr. Durham celebrated his 83rd birthday on April 23, when his brother, Dr. J. R. Durham, and his wife entertained guests for him at a fashionable club at Boynton Beach. Mr. Durham has long established friends in Florida where he had lived some years ago, and where he spends his winters. They saw Mr. and Mrs. Archie Cousins of Aurora, Mr. and Mrs. Eves of Newmarket, but missed Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Urquhart of Aurora.

They all report a wonderful time and motored to many interesting places. Mrs. Cain's son flew south and met the party at Savannah, Georgia, driving them home by the new Ocean highway that connects with Jacksonville.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Cook motored to Cherry Valley, near Pictou, recently to spend a few days with Mrs. McQuoid, a sister of Mr. Cook. In June, another sister, Mrs. Laura Boothe, of Los Vegas, California, and her daughter Marion plan to visit the Cooks for a few weeks.

Mr. Joe Meisner, Wildwood Ave., is repairing his Lake Wilcox home which had been damaged by fire. He is making a picture window on the south wall and re-shingling the roof.

Mrs. James Gilchrist, Toronto, has come back to her cottage on Wildwood Ave. At present her husband is on a business trip to Montreal. During the weekend, her visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wright, Mr.

Smith and Mrs. Christiansen, Toronto.

Garden Party June 13

The Aurora membership of York County Hospital Auxiliary will hold a garden party on Friday, June 13, at "Glen Lonely", the home of Mrs. S. C. Snively, Whitchurch township, in aid of the auxiliary work. Mrs. Archie Cousins is chairman of the Aurora division which has over 40 members. The announcement was made at the monthly meeting of the auxiliary at Newmarket on Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. J. P. Norris of King told how King City W. I. raises funds for the hospital aid and other community projects.

King City And District

Encouraging reports were heard by King Community Association on the evening of April 29 when the chairman, Mrs. Ivan Specht, told of her recent interview with Mr. Jack Eilbeck and Mr. J. Thompson, representatives of the community program branch of the provincial department of education concerning the building of a community hall at King.

They emphasized the importance of planning for a conservative building that will adequately serve the needs of the community. They strongly advised engaging an architect in order to get best results. They thought supervision of building operations by an architect is also essential. In their opinion, the use of the provincial grant was an inadvisable arrangement. This conclusion was reached when Mrs. Specht pointed out that the aim of the K.C.A. and others of the community keenly interested, is to raise the funds outright.

They suggested a 40' x 60' auditorium to seat 250 people. This would accommodate 12 sets for square dancing, and with a 20 foot ceiling, game, such as volleyball, badminton, etc., could be played. The stage could be 18' x 40'. As a two-story building, there would be a library, kitchen, washrooms, and additional storage space.

After considerable discussion, a motion by George Brown, president of the Athletic Assoc., seconded by Mrs. Beryl Fleet, Legion Auxiliary president, authorized Mrs. Specht and Mr. J. T. Phair to negotiate with an architect and report back to the association at a meeting which was set for Monday evening, May 13, at the home of Mrs. Specht.

Fifteen were present at the meeting when secretary, D. M. Findlay, said the draft of the K.C.A. charter would be forwarded to the provincial secretary for government approval within a few days.

Fire by the "Grapevine"

Sparks from burning grape vines set fire to the roof of the Hamby house on Saturday. Quick action of Jack Hamby prevented its spread. He carried a pail of water to the ridge pole where the blaze started, only to find the lower shed roof burning. After dousing the first spot, he climbed down to the shed, tearing off shingles. Pails of water quelled the blaze which spread rapidly along the wooden shingles. When Aurora fire truck arrived the biggest danger was past. A neighbor, J. L. Grew, put out the fire in the grape vines by using a hand chemical extinguisher. The resin of the grape vine is very volatile and burns fiercely, and a north-west wind aided the start of the fire.

Bishop Heathcote Visits King

Bishop, the Rev. Sir Francis Heathcote of Vancouver, and his charming wife paid a visit to King City last Friday, renewing acquaintances with his old friend, Miss Alice Ferguson, who corresponds with him from time to time, keeping him informed of happenings of this former parish at King. Mr. Heathcote was rector of the parish in the 1890's and is now 84 and retired from active ministry. He had made the trip east to perform a marriage at Toronto.

and he likes to hear about the people; but was saddened to find so many of his old friends had passed on. It was he who had assisted in the divine service when Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh were in Vancouver on their Royal tour.

Tea for Son's Fiancee

On Sunday afternoon, Mrs. Eric B. Johnston entertained friends and neighbors at her home to meet Miss Barbara Boehm of Grimsby who is the fiancee of her son, Dr. E. B. Johnston. The couple will be married in June. Assisting was Mrs. Boehm, the young lady's mother.

Choir Delights Congregation

The Christian Business Girls' choir of Toronto was greatly appreciated when they sang at the evening anniversary service at King United church on Sunday. The choir of 18 voices is under the direction of Miss Nan Allin and their accompanist is Miss Jean Ireland. They are part of the city's Christian Girls' organization whose purpose is to "serve the Lord," and interpret His teachings in their daily living.

When the minister, Rev. M. R. Jenkinson, spoke of the flowers that adorned the Communion table the choir sang the anthem "Hold Thou My Hand" in memory of all who had passed on. The two standards of white snapdragon and carnations and calla lilies were given in memory of the late Gordon Patton, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Patton, by his wife Betty and sister, Anne Patton Neild. "The Holy Hour" and "Come to Me" were fine renditions.

Mr. Jenkinson preached on "The Road of Life". At the close of the service Mr. Jenkinson and Miss Allin shook hands with everyone as the congregation left the church.

The morning service was also well attended, with excellent music directed by the organist, Mrs. Verna Patton, and an excellent sermon by the minister. Many from Lasky and Teston churches and other denominations enjoyed the 81st anniversary day.

The minister occupied the new pulpit chair, the gift of one of his parishioners.

Leathercraft Prominent

In reporting a meeting of Kingcrafts Guild regarding the forthcoming sale of work in June, we omitted mention of leathercraft. Under the sponsorship of Mrs. W. F. Poag, three groups have been at work producing many fine pieces in a variety of items. At the outset they were instructed by Mrs. B. L. Stavert of Aurora, but when the enrollment continued to grow, some of the ladies took extra courses in order to carry forward the work. The craft is very popular and the work will attract many interested customers at the sale. The group will meet at the home of Mrs. Poag on Tuesday afternoon, May 13, to wrap their articles.

Ordination at St. Andrew's. A service of ordination of David C. Wotherspoon into the ministry and induction into the Presbyterian charge of Eversley, Strange and West King will be conducted by the Presbytery of West Toronto at St. Andrew's church on Friday evening, May 9.

Rev. W. W. Weir, Brampton, will conduct the worship service. Rev. R. Currie, Creelman, moderator of Presbytery, will conduct the ordination and induction ceremony. The address to the new minister and the congregations will be delivered by Professor David W. Hay, Knox College, Toronto. Afterward, a social hour will be held in the church.

Mr. Wotherspoon graduated from Knox College. He received his preaching license with three other students at Port Credit Presbyterian church on May 2. The King congregations are fortunate in having the young man who has been their student minister for the past two years remain in the charge. Mr. Wotherspoon, his wife and three young children, Mary Carol, Paul and Jewell Anne, who dwell in the manse, have earned the admiration and the esteem of members and adherents of the three congregations.

Miss Barbara Specht visited her friend, Miss Carolyn Cole, at her Toronto home over the weekend. The girls are riding enthusiasts. Barbara is a member of the North York Pony club and Carolyn the Eglington club.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Glass motored to Drury Forest, near Barrie, on Sunday, to visit Mrs. Glass's aunt, Mrs. W. J. McMaster, whose husband manages a large reforestation area there.

Mr. M. H. Bell and his 10-year-old son, Rodney, journeyed to St. John, Uxbridge township, on Sunday to fish for trout.

Pictured here are Rev. David C. Wotherspoon, his wife, Mary Carol aged 8, Paul, 5 and Jewel Anne, aged 6 months. Mr. Wotherspoon will be ordained into the ministry and inducted into the Presbyterian charge of Eversley, Strange and West King by Rev. R. Currie Creelman, moderator of Toronto West Presbytery. Mr. Wotherspoon will be the first resident ordained minister of the King charge in ten years. He has been student minister here for the past two years. He graduated from Knox College on April 9, 1952.

Temperanceville

A delightful daffodil tea was held in Temperanceville United Church on April 29 under the auspices of the Women's Institute. Beautiful double and single daffodils picked from the gardens of members of the organization provided a cheerful note to the activities. The tables from which the lovely aprons, delicious baking, touch and take articles, and white elephants were sold, proved extremely popular and with the exception of a few white elephant articles all sold out in record time.

The guests were served tea on card tables with spotless white cloths and an assortment of delicious home made cookies placed on a lacey white paper napkin which was surrounded by delicate sandwiches. Among the 70 persons present, were ladies from Newmarket and King, as well as a number from Temperanceville whom we seldom have the pleasure of entertaining.

Due to the kind co-operation of all who attended the tea, the work of the social committee, the convenors, and members of the organizations with their various contributions, the proceeds of the tea amounted to slightly over $100.

Appreciation is extended by the organization, especially the social committee, to all those who helped make the tea such a success. On the evening of April 29, the last euchre of the season was held at Temperanceville school-house. The lucky prize winners were, ladies 1st, Mrs. Fred Boys; 2nd, Mrs. Charles Henshaw; con, Mrs. W. M. Nichols; travelling, Mrs. Peter Beckett; men's 1st, Mr. John Anderson; 2nd, Mr. Wilfred Dion; con, Mr. W. S. Hare; travelling, Mr. Lyle Wells. The ladies' season prize was won by Mrs. Norman Rumble; the men's, Mr. Leonard Dion.

Mrs. Fred Boys attended the Masonic euchre held in King Friday, May 2, and was the fortunate winner of a lovely woollen, satin bound blanket which was the season's prize for ladies. Mr. Fred Hare was also a winner from this community, receiving a lovely pencil for the season's men's prize.

John Bak came from his native Denmark to the Tottenham district about 25 years ago, followed by his brother Peter. He had worked for H. E. Ross on the farm and later for D. M. Ross, a building contractor. About 1930, Mr. Bak visited Denmark, and shortly afterward Marie Jensen came from Denmark to Canada to marry him in Toronto. The couple came to Eversley, living in the Elliott house, where Mr. Bak was employed. He was a fine wood worker and did much to improve Mr. Elliott's place at that time. Later they lived in what is now the McConnell house, and again on Eversley sideroad, when they removed to Aurora. The children, Robert, aged 19, and Edith, 13, were born at Eversley.

Survivors are Mrs. Marie Jensen Bak, Robert and Edith, and Peter Bak of Gravenhurst. Rev. P. W. Roberts, Toronto, will preach at All Saints' Anglican Church on Sunday, May 11, at 10 a.m. Mr. Roberts is a former rector of the parish. Rev. D. C. H. Mitchell, All Saints' rector will be his exchange. During the centenary of the diocese clergy are exchanging pulpits.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Glass motored to Drury Forest, near Barrie, on Sunday, to visit Mrs. Glass's aunt, Mrs. W. J. McMaster, whose husband manages a large reforestation area there. Mr. M. H. Bell and his 10-year-old son, Rodney, journeyed to St. John, Uxbridge township, on Sunday to fish for trout.
